Sampling

Sampling Procedure

In June through August 2012, 310 stakeholders of the World Bank in Morocco were invited to provide their opinions on the Bank's assistance to the country by participating in a country survey. Participants in the survey were drawn from among the office of the Prime Minister; the office of a Minister; the office of a Parliamentarian; employees of a ministry, ministerial departments, or implementation agency; consultants/contractors working on World Bank-supported projects/programs; project management units (PMUs) overseeing implementation of a project; local government officials or staff; bilateral agencies; multilateral agencies; private sector organizations; private foundations; the financial sector/private banks; NGOs; community-based organizations (CBOs); the media; independent government institutions; trade unions; academia/research institutes/think tanks; and the judiciary branch.

Response Rate

A total of 96 stakeholders participated in the country survey (31%).

Questionnaires

Overview

The Questionnaire consists of 8 Sections:

A. General Issues facing Morocco:

Respondents were asked to indicate whether Morocco was headed in the right or wrong direction, the three most important development priorities, and which areas would contribute most to reducing poverty and generate economic growth.

B. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank:

Respondents were asked to rate their familiarity with the World Bank, the Bank's overall effectiveness in Morocco, Bank staff preparedness, the extent to which the Bank should seek to influence the global development agenda, agreement with various statements regarding the Bank's work, and the extent to which the Bank is an effective development partner. Respondents were also asked to indicate the sectoral areas on which it would be most productive for the Bank to focus its resources, the Bank's greatest values and greatest weaknesses in its work, the most and least effective instruments in helping to reduce poverty in Morocco, with which groups the Bank should work more in Morocco, and how they attribute slow or failed reform efforts.

C. World Bank Effectiveness and Results:

Respondents were asked to rate the extent to which the Bank's work helps achieve sustainable development results in Morocco, the extent to which the Bank meets Morocco's need for knowledge services and financial instruments, and the Bank's level of effectiveness across thirty-one development areas, such as economic growth. Respondents were also asked to indicate the greatest obstacles to more effective governance and greater job creation in Morocco and the areas related to governance and job creation on which the Bank should spend greater attention.

D. The World Bank's Knowledge:

Respondents were asked to indicate how frequently they consult Bank knowledge/research, the areas on which the Bank should focus its research efforts, and to rate the effectiveness and quality of the Bank's knowledge/research, including how significant a contribution it makes to development results and its technical quality.

E. Working with the World Bank:

Respondents were asked to rate their level of agreement with a series of statements regarding working with the Bank, such as the World Bank's "Safeguard Policy" requirements being reasonable and the Bank disbursing funds promptly.

F. The Future Role of the World Bank in Morocco:

Respondents were asked to rate how significant a role the Bank should play in Morocco in the near future and to indicate what the Bank should do to make itself of greater value in Morocco.

G. Communication and Information Sharing:

Respondents were asked to indicate whether the government is doing enough to increase civil society participation in Morocco, the greatest obstacles to greater civil society participation, where they get information about economic and social development issues, how they prefer to receive information from the Bank, their access to the Internet, and their usage and evaluation of the Bank's website and PICs. Respondents were asked about their awareness of the Bank's Access to Information policy, past information requests from the Bank, and their level of agreement that they use more data from the World Bank as a result of the Bank's Open Data policy. Respondents were also asked to indicate their level of agreement that they know how to find information from the Bank and that the Bank is responsive to information requests.

H. Background Information:

Respondents were asked to indicate their current position, specialization, whether they professionally collaborate with the World Bank, their exposure to the Bank in Morocco, and their geographic location.
