Sampling

Sampling Procedure

From May to June 2013, 300 stakeholders of the World Bank in Botswana were invited to provide their opinions on the Bank's assistance to the country by participating in a country survey. Participants in the survey were drawn from employees of the Office of the President, Prime Minister; office of ministers; ministries, ministerial departments, or implementation agencies; consultants/ contractors working on World Bank-supported projects/programs; project management units (PMUs) overseeing implementation of a project; local government officials or staff; and respondents from bilateral and multilateral agencies; private sector organizations; financial sector and private banks; NGOs; CBOs; the media; independent government institutions; trade unions; faith-based groups; academia/research institutes/think tanks; and other organizations.

Response Rate

A total of 241 stakeholders participated in the survey (80% response rate).

Questionnaires

Overview

The Questionnaire consists of 8 Sections:

A. General Issues Facing Botswana:

Respondents were asked to indicate whether Botswana is headed in the right direction, what they thought were the top three most important development priorities in the country, which areas would contribute most to reducing poverty and generating economic growth in Botswana.

B. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank:

Respondents were asked to rate their familiarity with the World Bank, the Bank's effectiveness in Botswana, staff preparedness to help Botswana solve its development challenges, their agreement with various statements regarding the Bank's work, and the extent to which the Bank is an effective development partner. Respondents were asked to indicate the Bank's greatest values, greatest weaknesses, the most effective instruments in helping reduce poverty in Botswana, with which stakeholder groups the Bank should collaborate more, in which sectoral areas the Bank should focus most resources, to what extent the Bank should seek to influence the global development agenda, and to what reasons respondents attributed failed/slow reform efforts.

C. World Bank Effectiveness and Results:

Respondents were asked to rate the extent to which the Bank's work helps achieve development results, the extent to which the Bank meets Botswana's needs for knowledge services and financial instruments, and the Bank's level of effectiveness across twenty eight development areas, such as job creation/employment, poverty reduction, education, health, and public sector governance/reform.

D. The World Bank's Knowledge:

Respondents were asked to indicate the areas on which the Bank should focus its research efforts and to rate the effectiveness and quality of the Bank's knowledge work and activities, including how significant of a contribution it makes to development results and its technical quality. Respondents were asked to also indicate to what extent they believe that Botswana received value for money from the Bank's fee-based products/services.

E. Working with the World Bank:

Respondents were asked to rate their level of agreement with a series of statements regarding working with the Bank, such as the World Bank's "Safeguard Policy" requirements being reasonable, the Bank imposing reasonable conditions on its lending, disbursing funds promptly, increasing Botswana's institutional capacity, and providing effective implementation support.

F. The Future Role of the World Bank in Botswana:

Respondents were asked to rate how significant a role the Bank should play in Botswana in the near future and to indicate what the Bank should do to make itself of greater value. They were asked to indicate where greater support from the Bank would be most valuable in regard to economic diversification, social protection, natural resource management, information and communication technology, transport infrastructure, and public sector reform. Respondents were also asked to indicate the areas in which Botswana would benefit most from the Bank play a leading role, the areas where Botswana should receive little to no resources from the Bank, and areas that should be left to the Government to manage without the Bank's support.

G. Communication and Information Sharing:

Respondents were asked to indicate how they get information about economic and social development issues, how they prefer to receive information from the Bank, and their usage and evaluation of the Bank's websites. Respondents were asked about their awareness of the Bank's Access to Information policy, past information requests from the Bank, and their level of agreement that they use more data from the World Bank as a result of the Bank's Open Data policy. Respondents were also asked about their level of agreement that they know how to find information from the Bank, that the Bank's websites are easy to navigate and useful, and that the Bank is responsive to information requests. Respondents were also asked to indicate whether they primarily use the Bank's country website or the Bank's main website, which Internet connection they primarily use when visiting a Bank website, and whether they use/have used the Public Information Centers in Botswana.

H. Background Information:

Respondents were asked to indicate their current position, specialization, whether they professionally collaborate with the World Bank, their exposure to the Bank in Botswana, and their geographic location.
