I. Objectives

This survey was designed to achieve the following objectives:

- Assist the World Bank in gaining a better understanding of how stakeholders in Malawi perceive the Bank;
- Obtain systematic feedback from stakeholders in Malawi regarding:
 - Their views regarding the general environment in Malawi;
 - Their overall attitudes toward the World Bank in Malawi;
 - Overall impressions of the World Bank's effectiveness and results, knowledge work and activities, and communication and information sharing in Malawi;
 - Perceptions of the World Bank's future role in Malawi.
- Use data to help inform Malawi country team's strategy.

II. Methodology

In April-May 2013, 600 stakeholders of the World Bank in Malawi were invited to provide their opinions on the Bank's assistance to the country by participating in a country survey.

Participants in the survey were drawn from among the office of the President/Vice President; the Cabinet, the office of a Parliamentarian; a ministry, ministerial department, or statutory corporation; consultants/ contractors working on World Bank-supported projects/programs; project management units (PMUs) overseeing implementation of a project; local government officials or staff; bilateral and multilateral agencies; private sector organizations; private foundations; the financial sector/private banks; NGOs; community-based organizations; the media; independent government institutions; trade unions; faith-based groups; academia/research institutes/think tanks; the judiciary branch; and other organizations. A total of 427 stakeholders participated in the survey (71% response rate).

Respondents received questionnaires via courier, email and face to face and returned them accordingly. Respondents were asked about: general issues facing Malawi; their overall attitudes toward the Bank; the World Bank's effectiveness and results; the Bank's knowledge work and activities; working with the World Bank; the Bank's future role in Malawi; and the Bank's communication and information sharing in Malawi.

Every country that engages in the Country Survey must include specific indicator questions that will be aggregated for the World Bank's annual Corporate Scorecard. These questions are identified throughout the survey report.

- A. General Issues Facing Malawi: Respondents were asked to indicate whether Malawi is headed in the right direction, what they thought were the top three development priorities in Malawi, which areas would contribute most to reducing poverty and generating economic growth, and what best illustrates how "shared prosperity" would be achieved in Malawi.
- B. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank: Respondents were asked to rate their familiarity with the World Bank, the Bank's effectiveness in Malawi, Bank staff preparedness to help Malawi solve its development challenges, their agreement with various statements regarding the Bank's work, and the extent to which the Bank is an effective development partner. Respondents were asked to indicate the Bank's greatest values, greatest weaknesses, the most effective instruments in helping reduce poverty in Malawi, with which stakeholder groups the Bank should collaborate more, in which sectoral areas the Bank should focus most resources, to what extent the Bank should seek to influence the global development agenda, and to what reasons respondents attributed failed or slow reform efforts.

II. Methodology (continued)

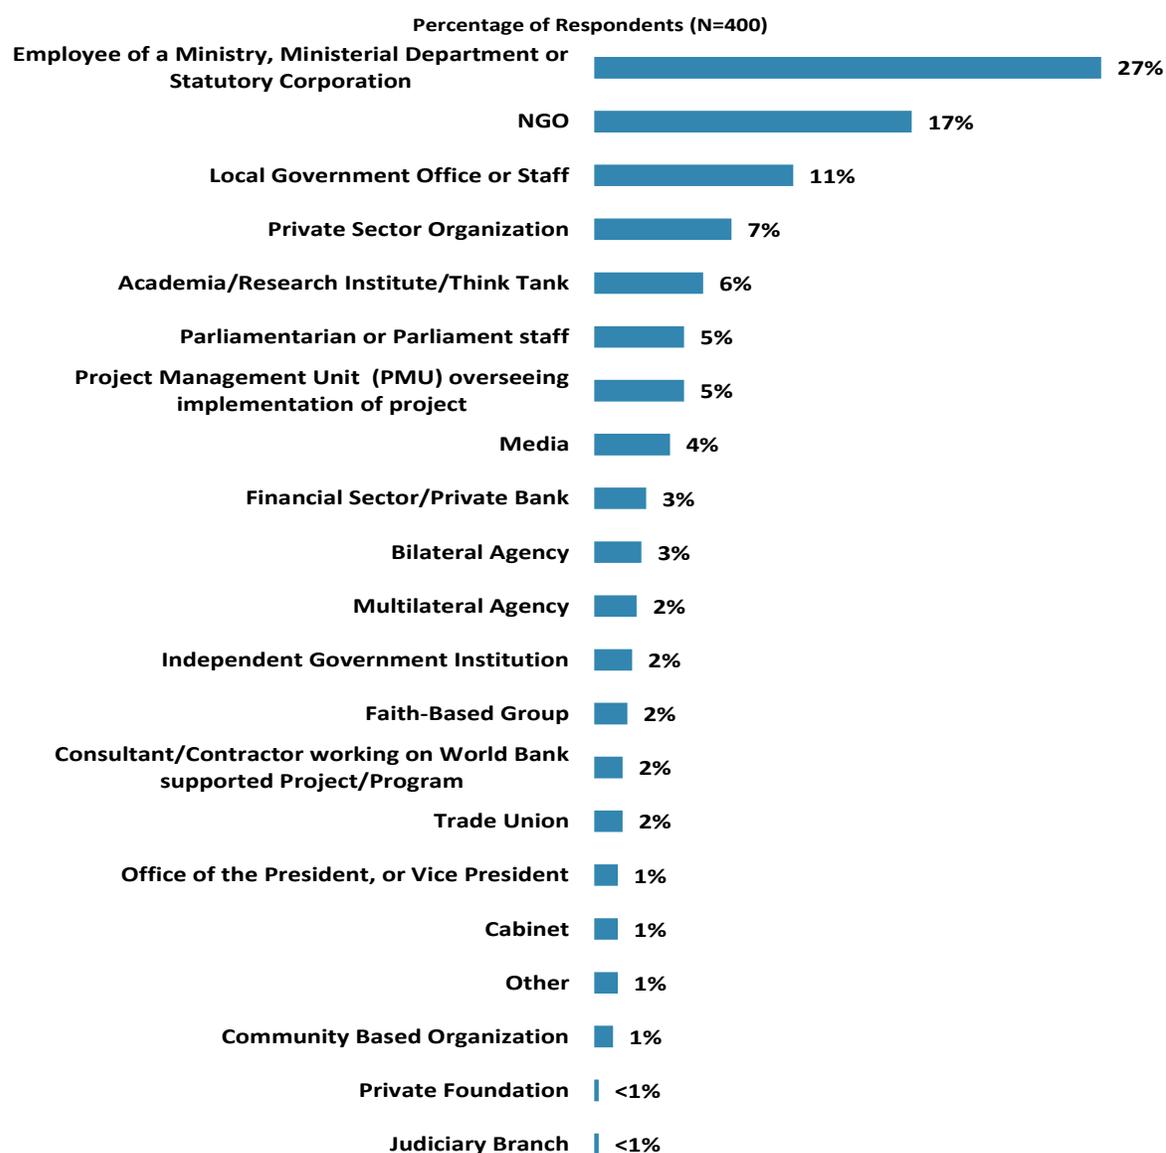

- C. World Bank Effectiveness and Results: Respondents were asked to rate the extent to which the Bank's work helps achieve development results, the extent to which the Bank meets Malawi's needs for knowledge services and financial instruments, and the Bank's level of effectiveness across twenty seven development areas, such as food security, education, agricultural development/commercialization, and poverty reduction.
- D. The World Bank's Knowledge: Respondents were asked to indicate the areas on which the Bank should focus its research efforts and to rate the effectiveness and quality of the Bank's knowledge work and activities, including how significant of a contribution it makes to development results and its technical quality.
- E. Working with the World Bank: Respondents were asked to rate their level of agreement with a series of statements regarding working with the Bank, such as the World Bank's "Safeguard Policy" requirements being reasonable, the Bank imposing reasonable conditions on its lending, disbursing funds promptly, increasing Malawi's institutional capacity, and providing effective implementation support.
- F. The Future Role of the World Bank in Malawi: Respondents were asked to rate how significant a role the Bank should play in Malawi in the near future and to indicate what the Bank should do to make itself of greater value.
- G. Communication and Information Sharing: Respondents were asked to indicate how they get information about economic and social development issues, how they prefer to receive information from the Bank, and their usage and evaluation of the Bank's websites. Respondents were asked about their awareness of the Bank's Access to Information policy, past information requests from the Bank, and their level of agreement that they use more data from the World Bank as a result of the Bank's Open Data policy. Respondents were also asked about their level of agreement that they know how to find information from the Bank, that the Bank's websites are easy to navigate and useful, and that the Bank is responsive to information requests. Respondents were also asked to indicate whether they primarily use the Bank's country website or the Bank's main website and whether they primarily use high speed or dial-up Internet connection when visiting a World Bank website.
- H. Background Information: Respondents were asked to indicate their current position, specialization, whether they professionally collaborate with the World Bank, their exposure to the Bank in Malawi, and their geographic location.

When possible, responses from respondents completing this year's country survey were compared to responses from 347 respondents (58% response rate) who completed the country survey in FY 2006 and 372 respondents (62% response rate) who completed the country survey in FY 2010. Notations and/or charts are included when these comparisons were possible.

III. Demographics of the Sample

Current Position

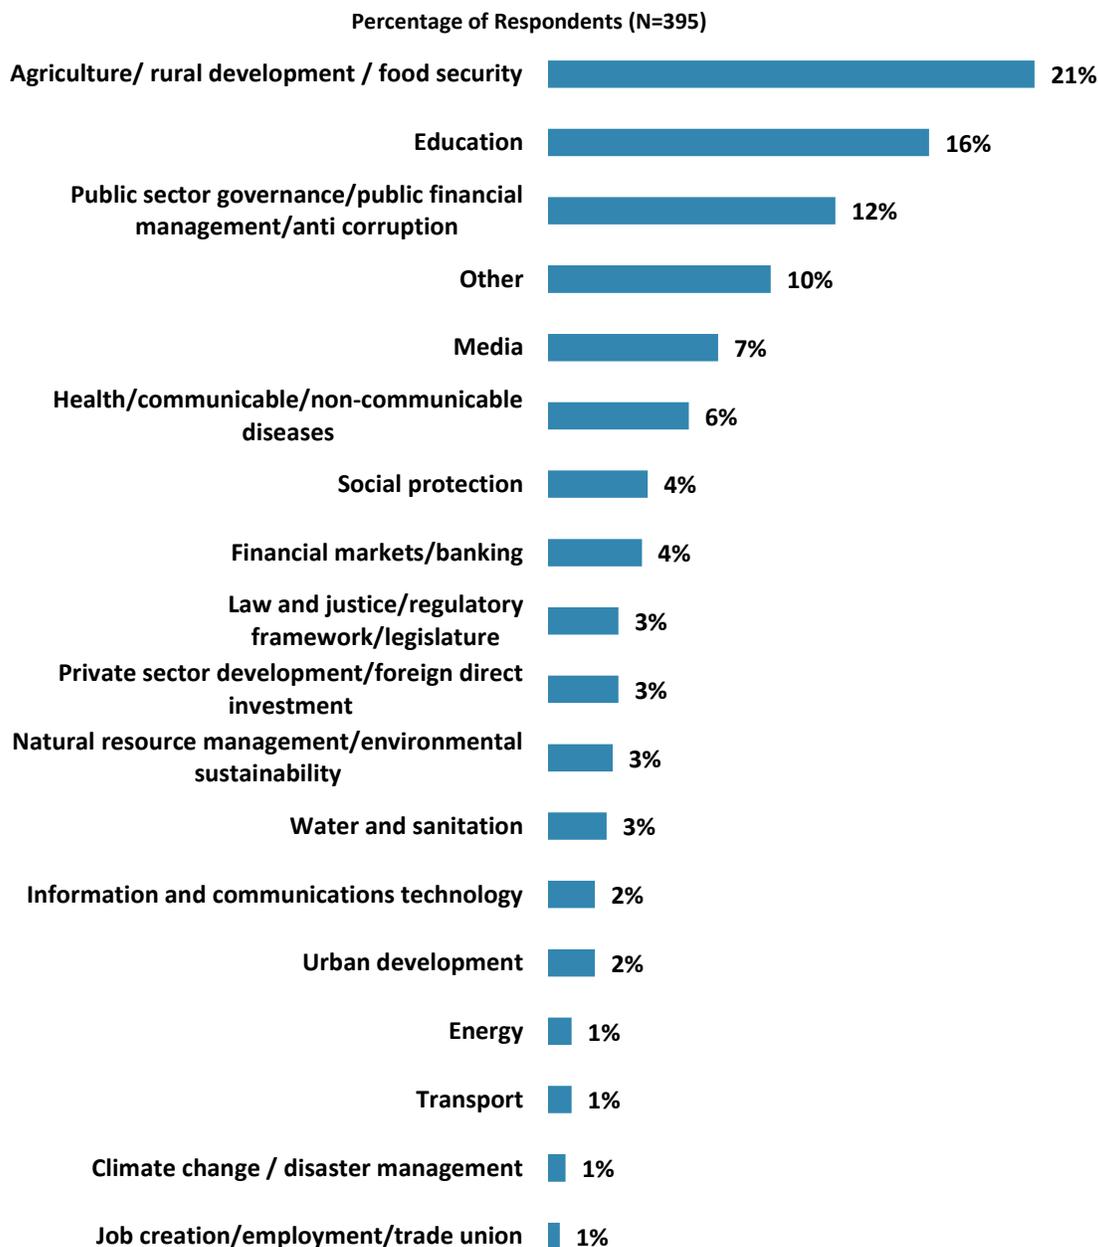

- For further analyses, respondents from the office of President/Vice President were combined with respondents from the Cabinet; respondents from PMUs were combined with consultants/contractors working on Bank projects; respondents from bilateral agencies were combined with respondents from multilateral agencies; respondents from private sector organizations were combined with respondents from financial sector/private banks; respondents from private foundations, NGOs, CBOs, trade unions, and faith-based groups were combined into the “CSO” category; the few respondents from independent government institutions, the judiciary branch, and other organizations were included in the “Other” category.

“Which of the following best describes your current position?” (Respondents chose from a list.)

Area of Primary Specialization

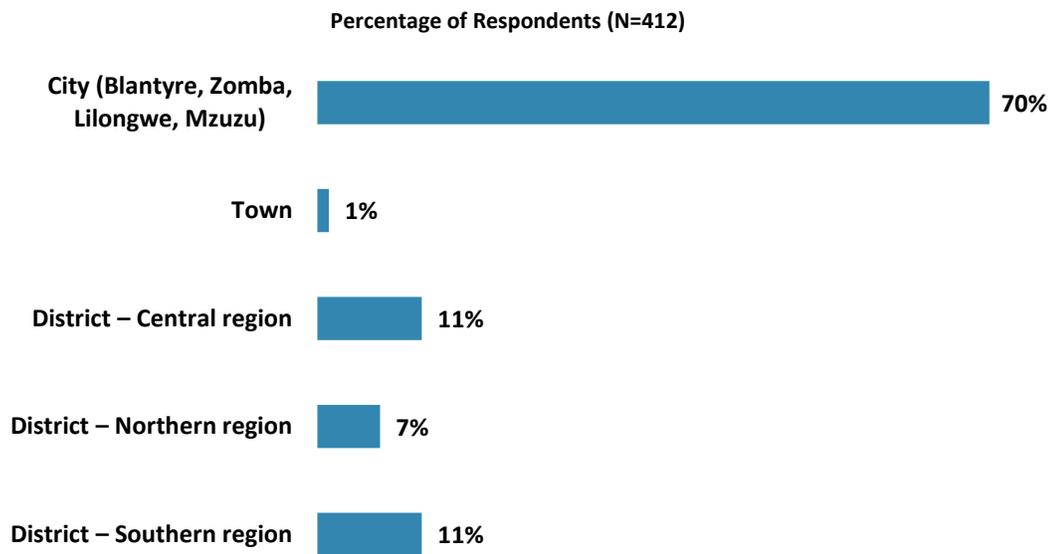

“Please identify the primary specialization of your work.” (Respondents chose from a list.)

III. Demographics of the Sample (continued)

Geographic Location

- Because of the small number of respondents from “Town” and “District – Northern region,” these locations were combined in the “Town and District – Northern region” category for all further analyses.
- Responses across geographic locations for all country survey questions can be found in the Appendix (see page 88). Only significant differences between geographic locations in response to indicator questions will be discussed in the body of this report.

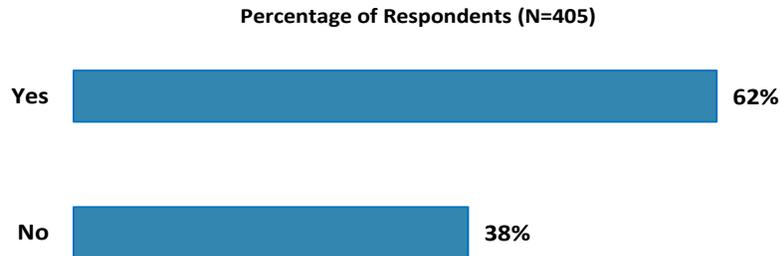

“Which best represents your geographic location?”

Collaboration with and Exposure to the World Bank

- Differences in responses to the indicator questions, based on levels of collaboration and exposure to the World Bank in Malawi, can be found in Appendix E (see page 104). Please note that where these two factors appear to have a significant relationship with overall views of the Bank, it is highlighted in yellow in that table.

"Currently, do you professionally collaborate/work with the World Bank in your country?"

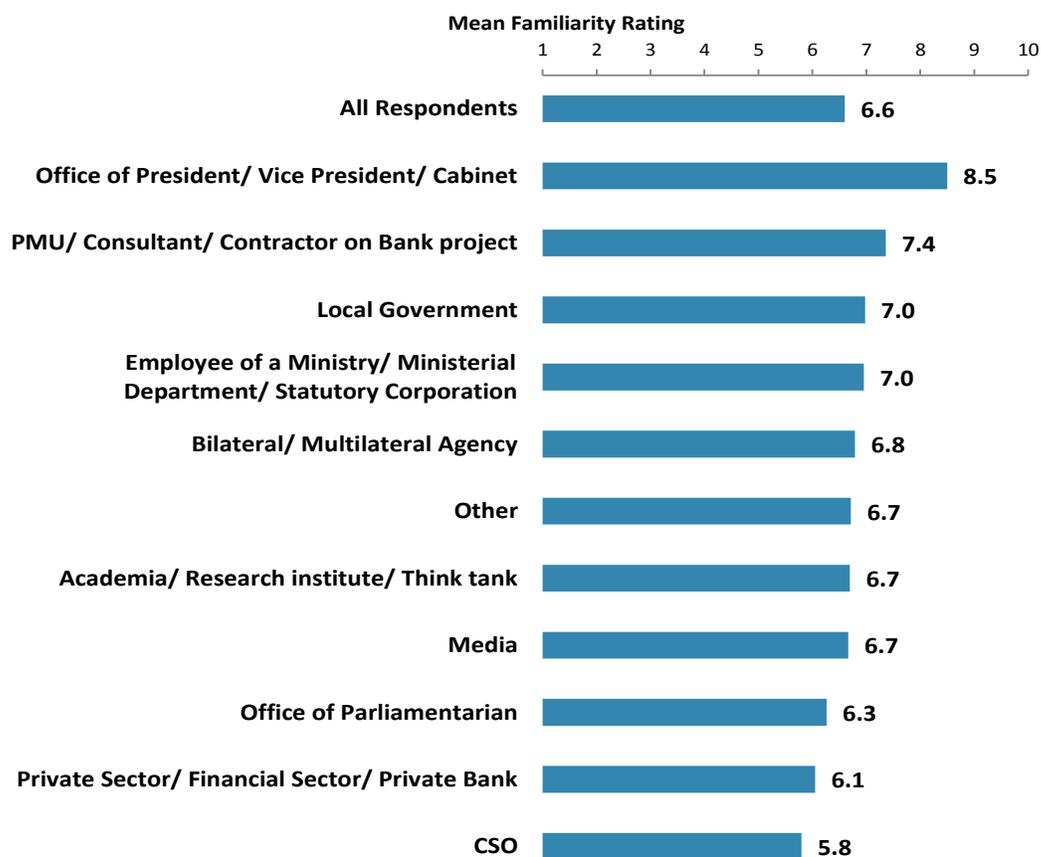

"Which of the following describes most of your exposure to the World Bank in Malawi? (Choose no more than TWO)" (Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

Familiarity with the World Bank

- Across all respondents, familiarity with the World Bank received a mean rating of 6.6. This was statistically similar to the mean rating received in the FY'10 country survey (6.5) and significantly higher than the mean rating received in the FY '06 survey (6.2).
- Respondents from the Office of President/Vice President/Cabinet indicated the highest levels of familiarity with the World Bank, whereas respondents from the private sector/financial sector/private banks indicated significantly lower levels of familiarity.
- Respondents across geographic locations indicated statistically similar levels of familiarity with the World Bank.
- Respondents' ratings of familiarity with the Bank were significantly, strongly correlated with their perceptions of the Bank's overall effectiveness in Malawi and the Bank's relevance to Malawi's development, and significantly, moderately correlated with the Bank's ability to help achieve development results in Malawi.

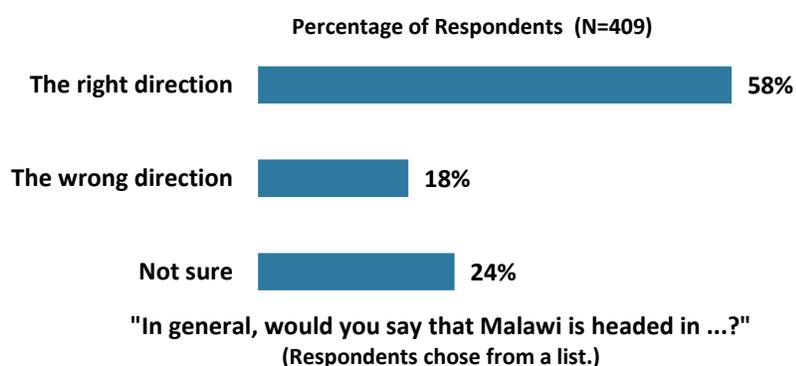

"How familiar are you with the work of the World Bank in Malawi?"
(1 - "Not familiar at all", 10 - "Extremely familiar")

IV. General Issues Facing Malawi

Headed in the Right Direction

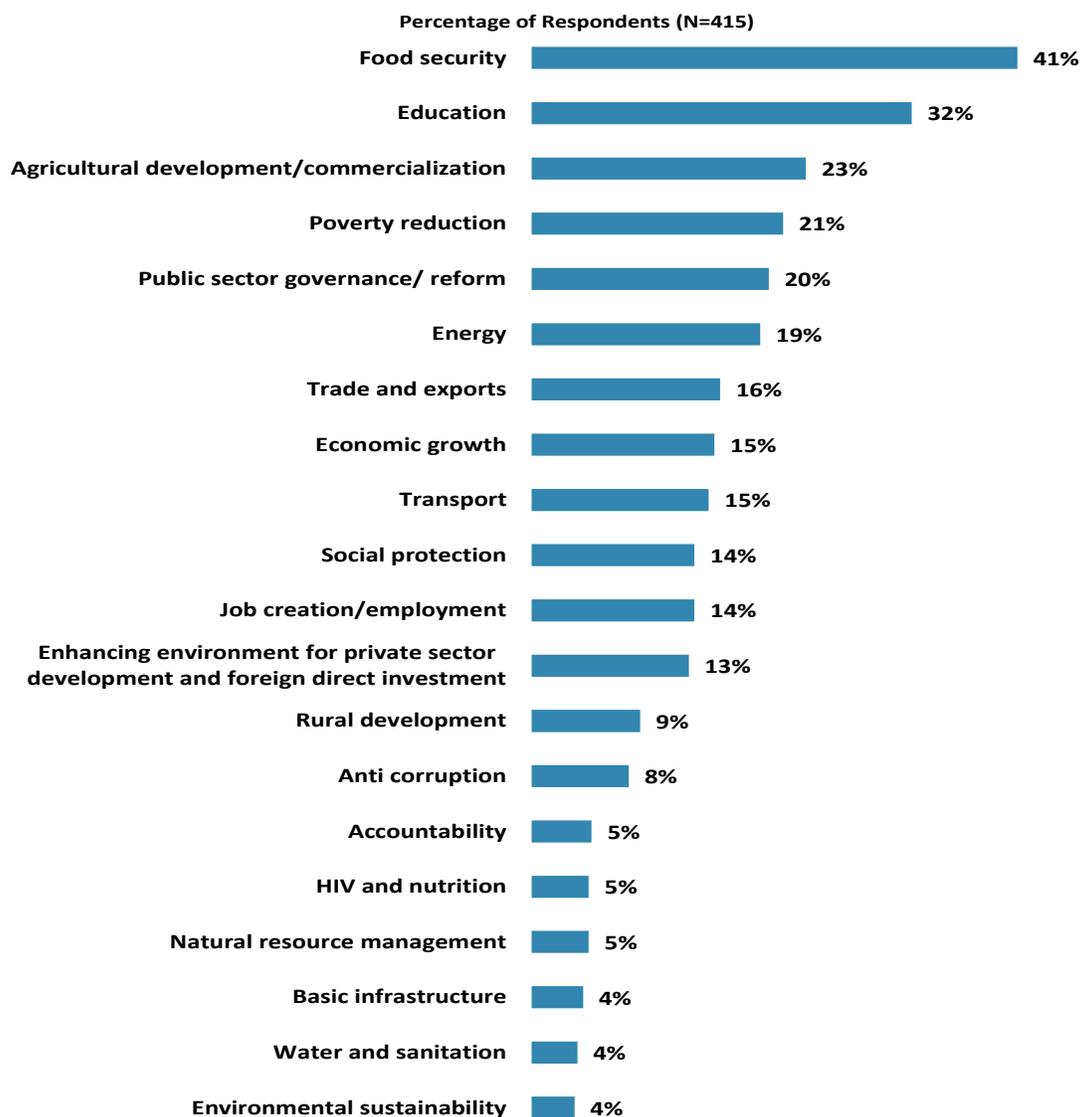

- All respondents from the Office of President/Vice President/Cabinet and a majority of employees of ministries/ministerial departments/statutory corporations and bilateral and multilateral agencies indicated that Malawi was headed in the right direction, whereas more than a quarter of the respondents from CSOs, the media, bilateral and multilateral agencies, PMUs and consultants/contractors working on bank-supported projects were significantly more likely to indicate that they were not sure whether Malawi was headed in the right or wrong direction.

Development Priority

- In the FY '10 country survey , respondents indicated that government effectiveness/governance (31%), economic growth (27%), increasing access to education (25%), and reducing poverty (21%) were the most important development priorities for Malawi. The most important development priorities in the FY '06 country survey were economic growth (41%) and government effectiveness (22%), education (18%), and reducing poverty (18%).

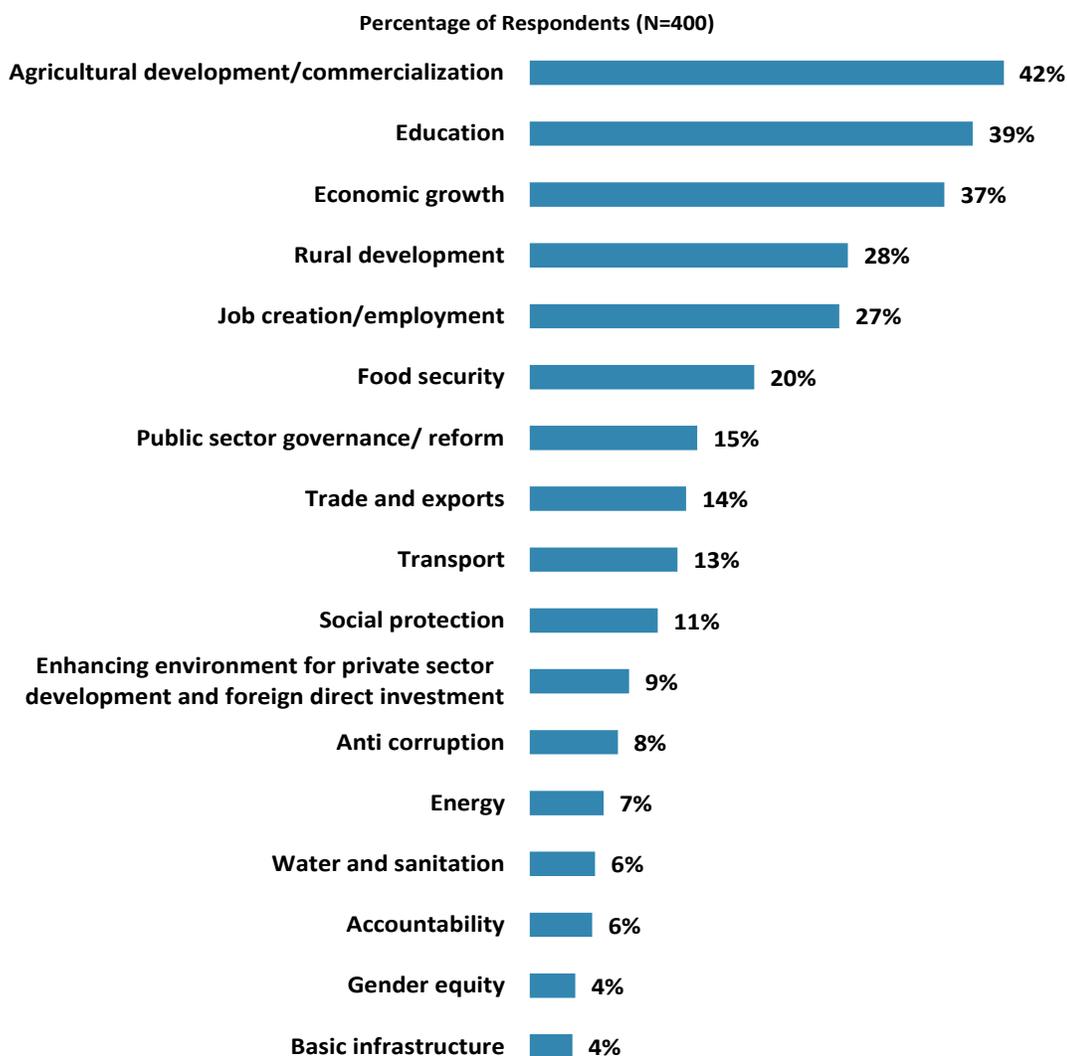

"Listed below are a number of development priorities in Malawi. Please identify which of the following you consider the most important development priorities in Malawi. (Choose no more than THREE)" (Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

*Not all of the response options provided in the FY '13 survey were provided in the FY '06 and FY '10 surveys.

What Would Contribute Most to Reducing Poverty

In the FY '10 country survey , respondents indicated that education (41%) and agriculture development (37%) would contribute most to poverty reduction in Malawi. In the FY '06 country survey, agriculture development (64%), education (38%) were considered to most contribute to poverty reduction

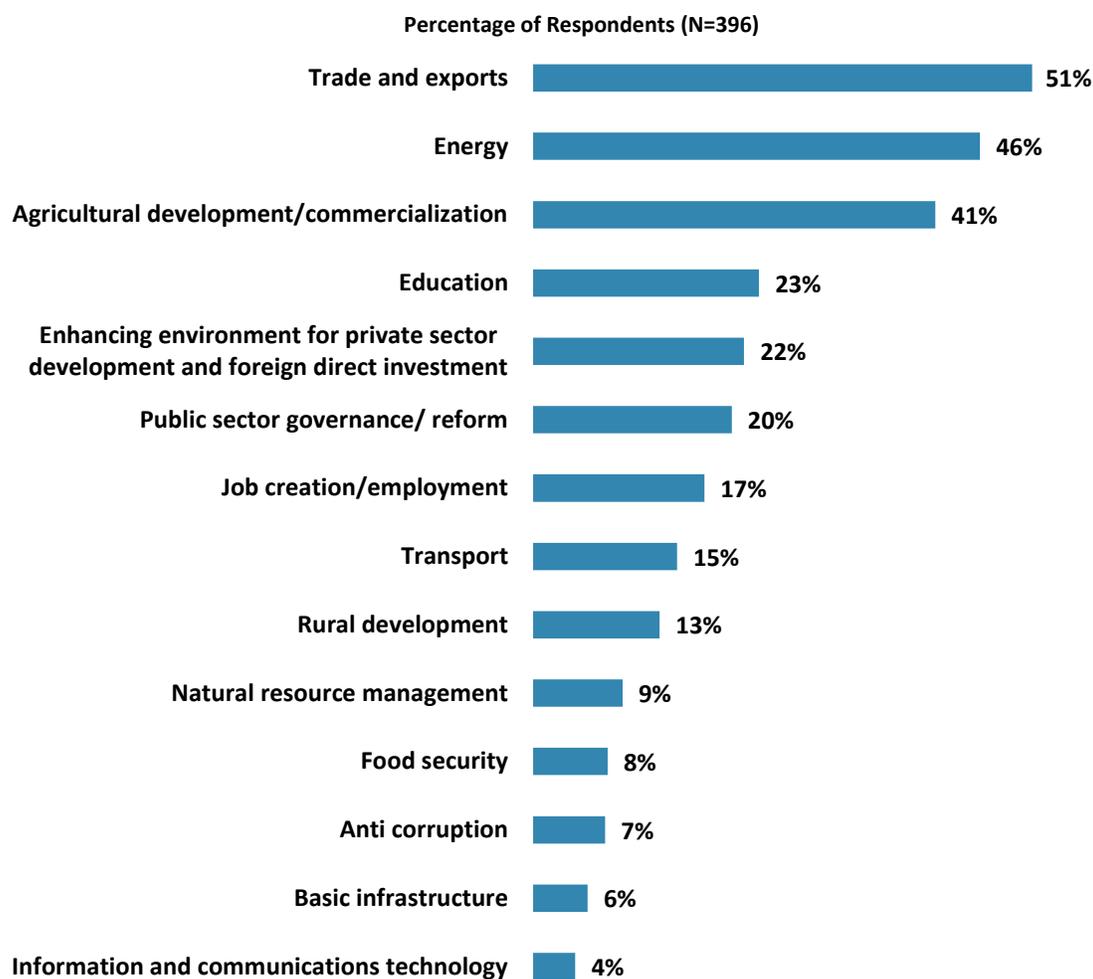

"Poverty reduction is a broad term that encompasses work in many different areas. Which THREE areas of development listed below do you believe would contribute most to reducing poverty in Malawi?" (Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

*Not all of the response options provided in the FY '13 survey were provided in the FY '06 and FY '10 surveys.

IV. General Issues Facing Malawi (continued)

What Would Contribute Most to Generating Economic Growth

- In the FY '10 country survey*, respondents indicated that increasing agricultural productivity (55%) and improving access to and/or quality of education (31%) would contribute most to generating economic growth in Malawi.

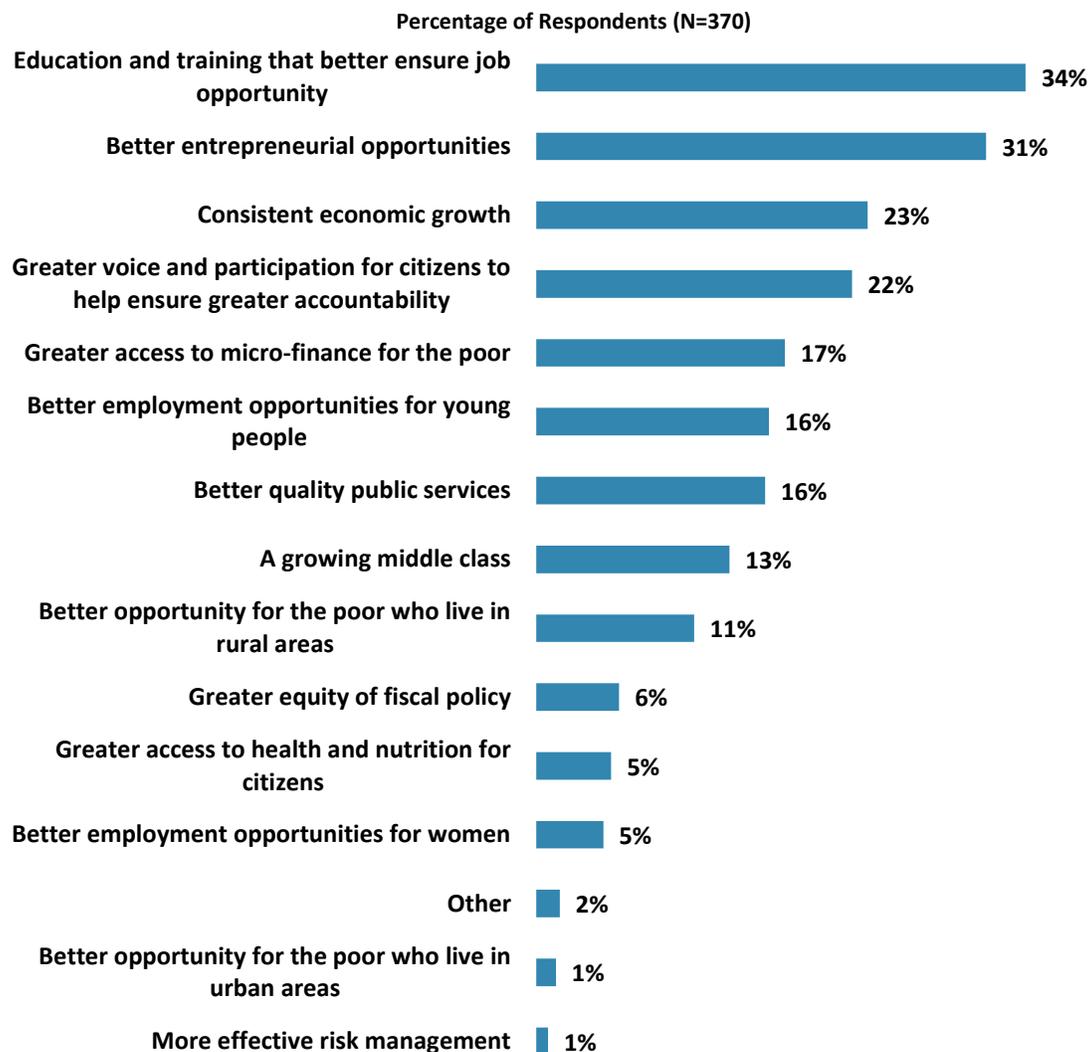

"Economic growth can be driven by a number of factors. Which THREE areas below do you believe would contribute most to generating economic growth in Malawi? (Choose no more than THREE)" (Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

*Not all of the response options provided in the FY '13 survey were provided in the FY '10 survey.

What Best Illustrates How “Shared Prosperity” Would Be Achieved

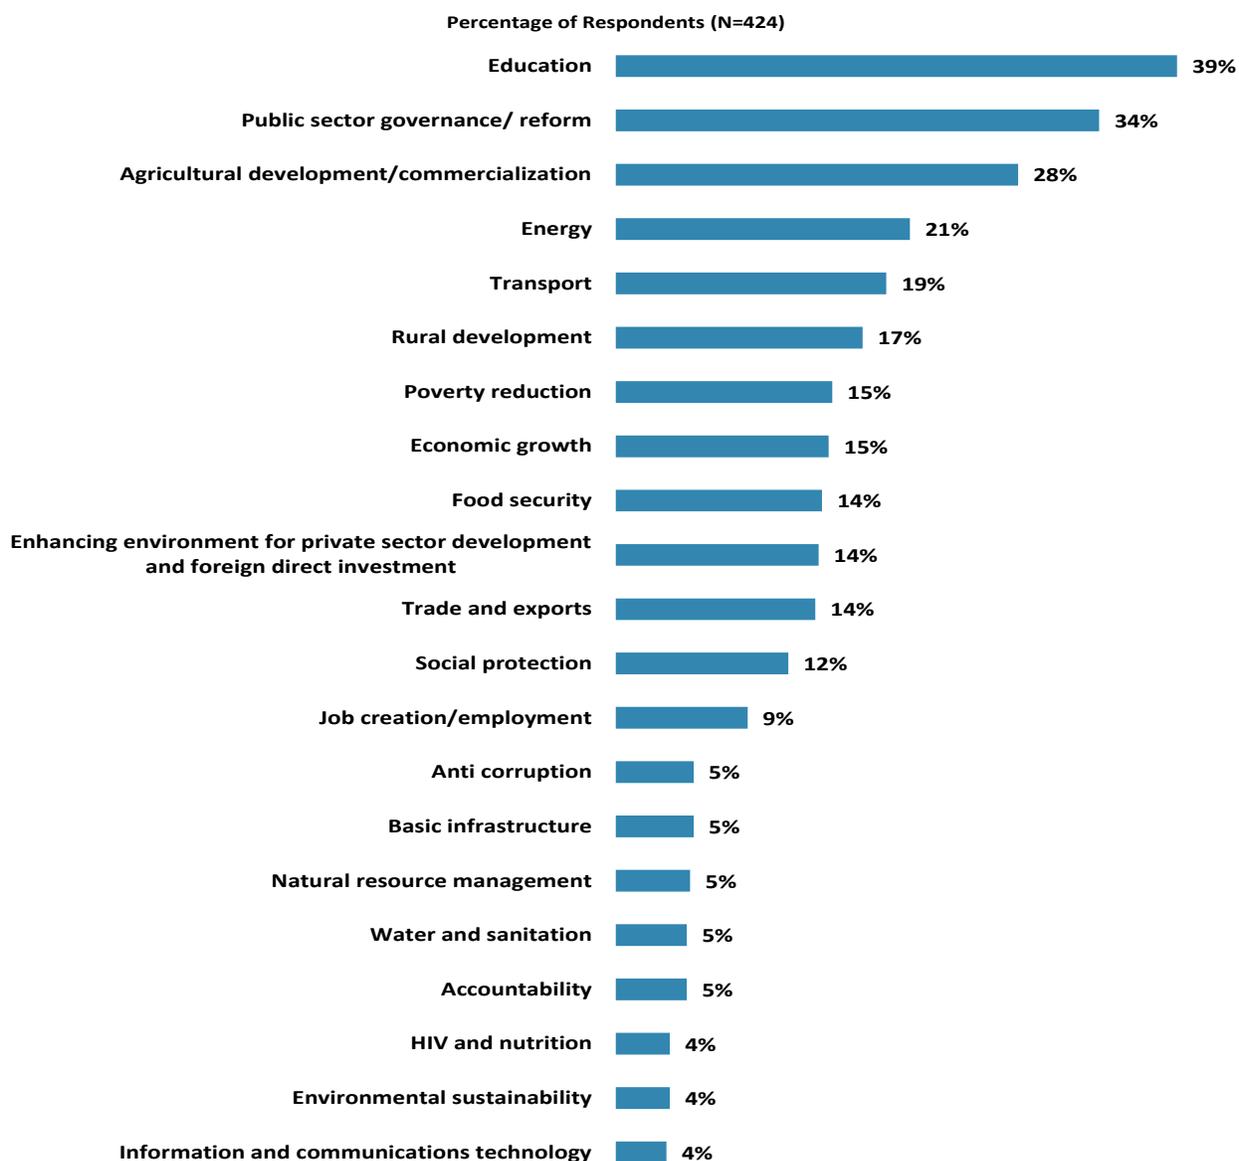

"When thinking about the idea of 'shared prosperity' in your country, which of the following TWO best illustrate how this would be achieved in Malawi? (Choose no more than TWO)"
(Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

V. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank

Where the World Bank Should Focus its Resources

- In the FY '10 country survey*, respondents indicated that it would be most productive for the Bank to focus most of its resources on increasing access to education (25%), economic growth (23%), and improving basic infrastructure (22%) in Malawi.

“When thinking about how the World Bank can have the most impact on development results in Malawi, in which sectoral areas do you believe the World Bank should focus most of its attention and resources in Malawi? (Choose no more than THREE)”
(Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

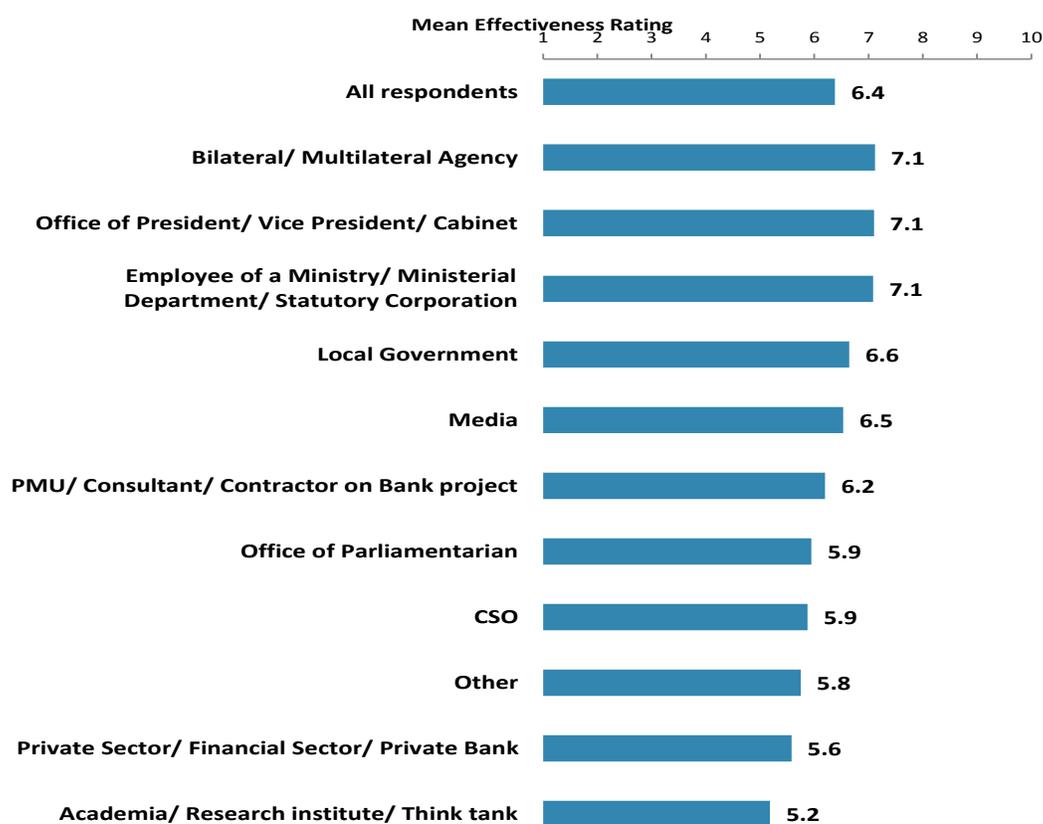

*Not all of the response options provided in the FY '13 survey were provided in the FY '10 survey.

V. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank (continued)

As noted in the “Methodology” section, the indicator questions referred to throughout the survey report are questions that are asked in every country that engages in the Country Survey. These will be aggregated for the Bank’s annual Corporate Scorecard.

The World Bank’s Overall Effectiveness (Indicator Question)

- Across all respondents, ratings of the World Bank’s overall effectiveness in Malawi received a mean rating of 6.4. This is significantly lower than the mean rating received in the FY ’10 survey (7.0) and statistically similar to the mean rating received in the FY ’06 country survey (6.3).
- Respondents from bilateral and multilateral agencies and office of President/Vice President/Cabinet, and employees of a ministry/ministerial department/statutory corporation gave the highest ratings for the World Bank’s overall effectiveness in Malawi, whereas respondents from the private sector/financial sector/private banks and academia/research institutes/think tanks gave significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents across geographic locations gave statistically similar ratings for the Bank’s overall effectiveness in Malawi.

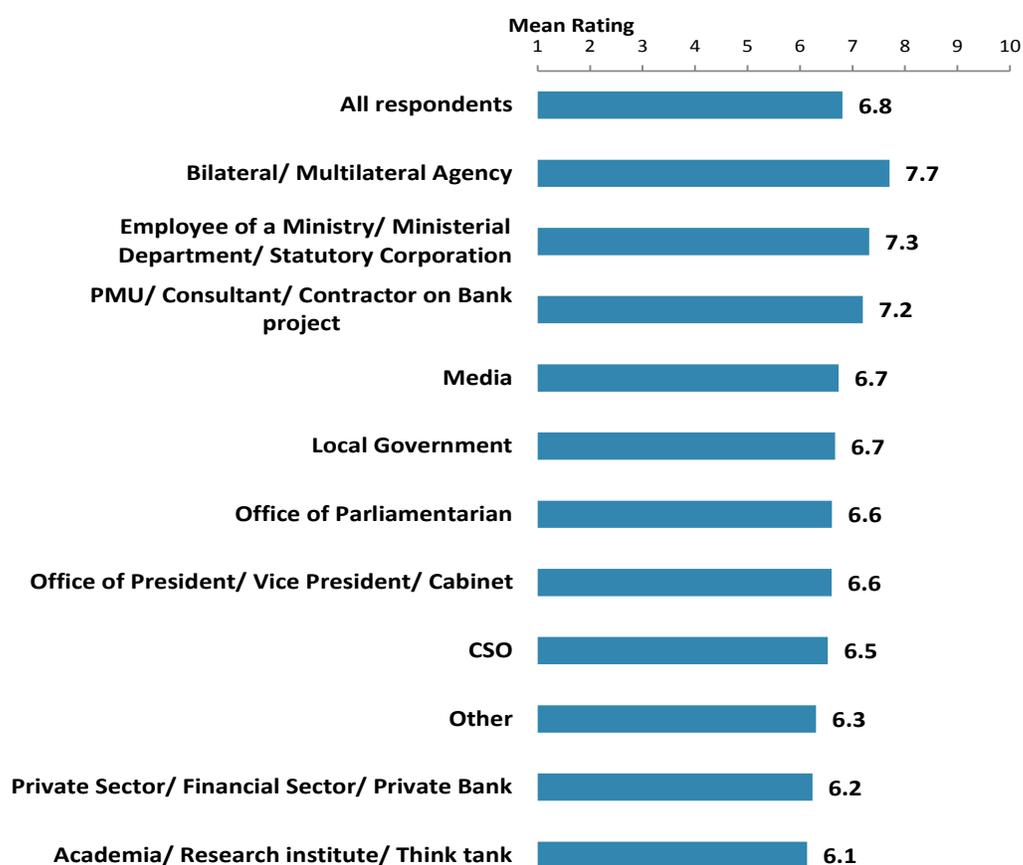

"Overall, please rate your impression of the World Bank's effectiveness in Malawi?"
(1 - "Not effective at all", 10 - "Very effective")

V. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank (continued)

Achieving Development Results (Indicator Question)

- Respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies and employees from a ministry/ministerial department/statutory corporation gave the highest ratings for the World Bank helping achieve development results in Malawi, whereas respondents from the private sector/financial sector/private banks and academia/research institutes/think tanks gave significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents across geographic locations gave statistically similar ratings for the World Bank helping achieve development results in Malawi.

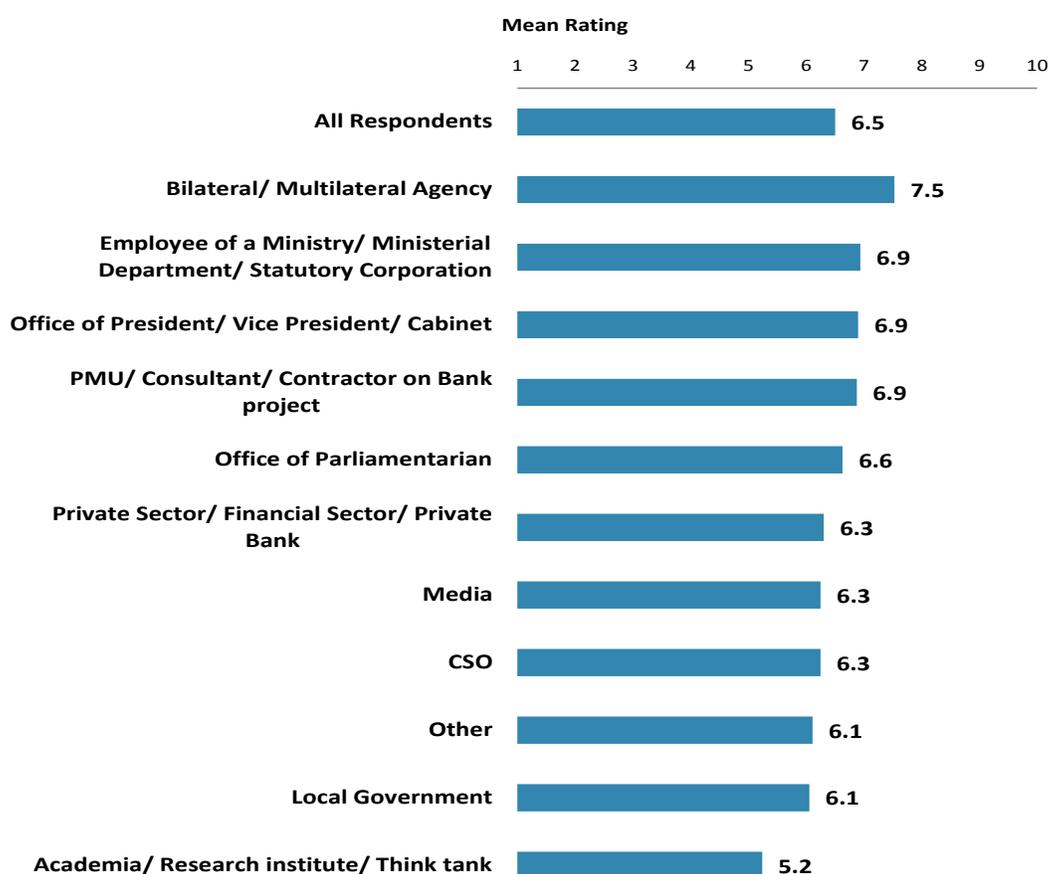

"To what extent does the World Bank's work help to achieve development results in Malawi?"

(1 - "To no degree at all", 10 - "To a very significant degree")

V. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank (continued)

Staff Preparedness (Indicator Question)

- Respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies gave the highest ratings for the extent to which the Bank's staff is well prepared to help Malawi solve its most complicated development challenges, whereas respondents from academia/research institutes/think tanks gave significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents across geographic locations gave statistically similar ratings for the extent to which the Bank's staff is well prepared to help Malawi solve its most complicated development challenges.

"To what extent do you believe the World Bank's staff is well prepared (e.g., skills and knowledge) to help Malawi solve its most complicated development challenges?"
(1-"To no degree at all", 10-"To a very significant degree")

V. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank (continued)

Greatest Value

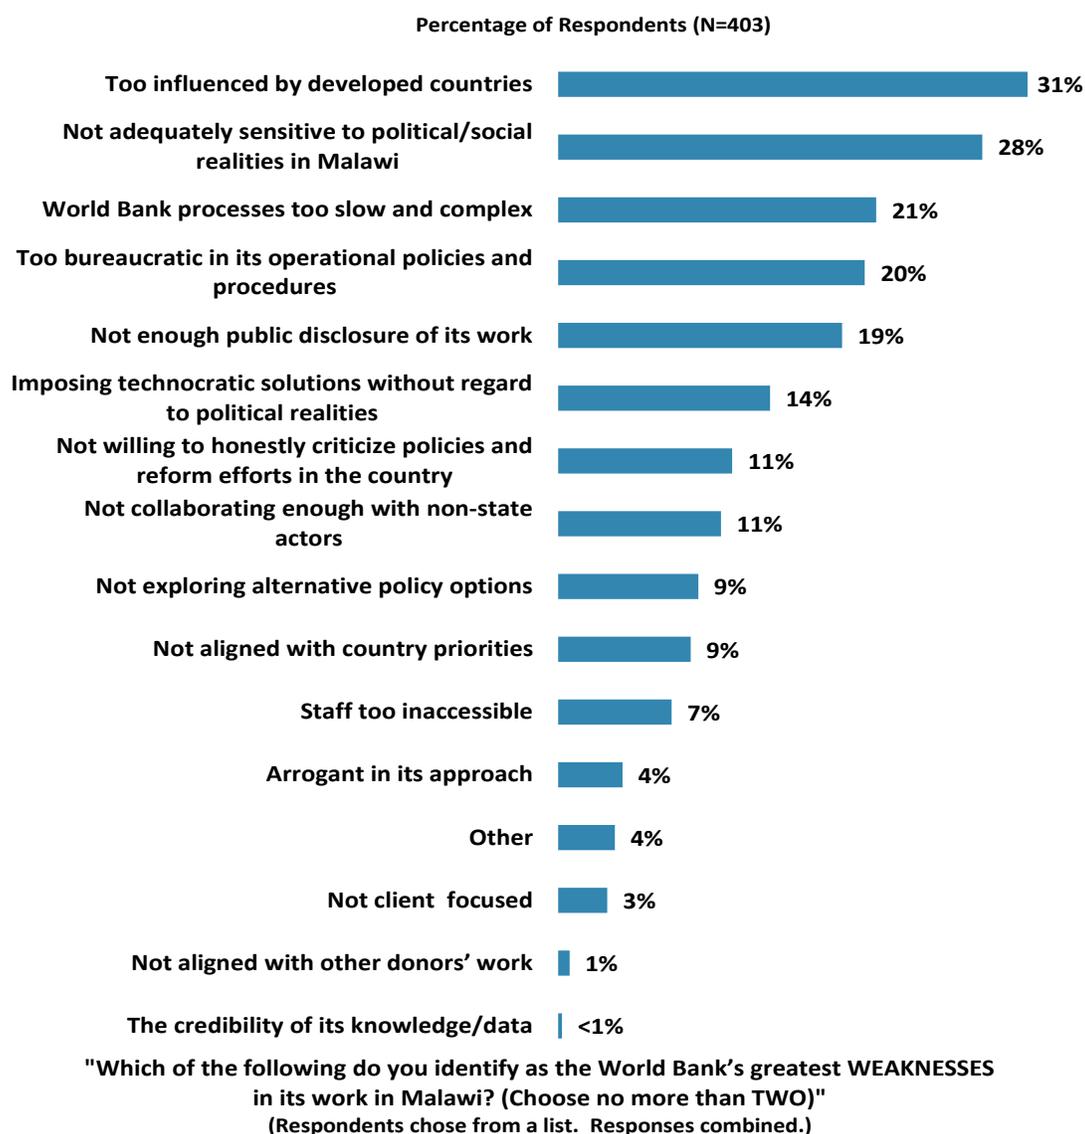

"When thinking about the World Bank's role, which activity do you believe is of greatest VALUE and which activity is of second greatest value in Malawi?"
 (Respondents chose from a list.)

Greatest Weakness

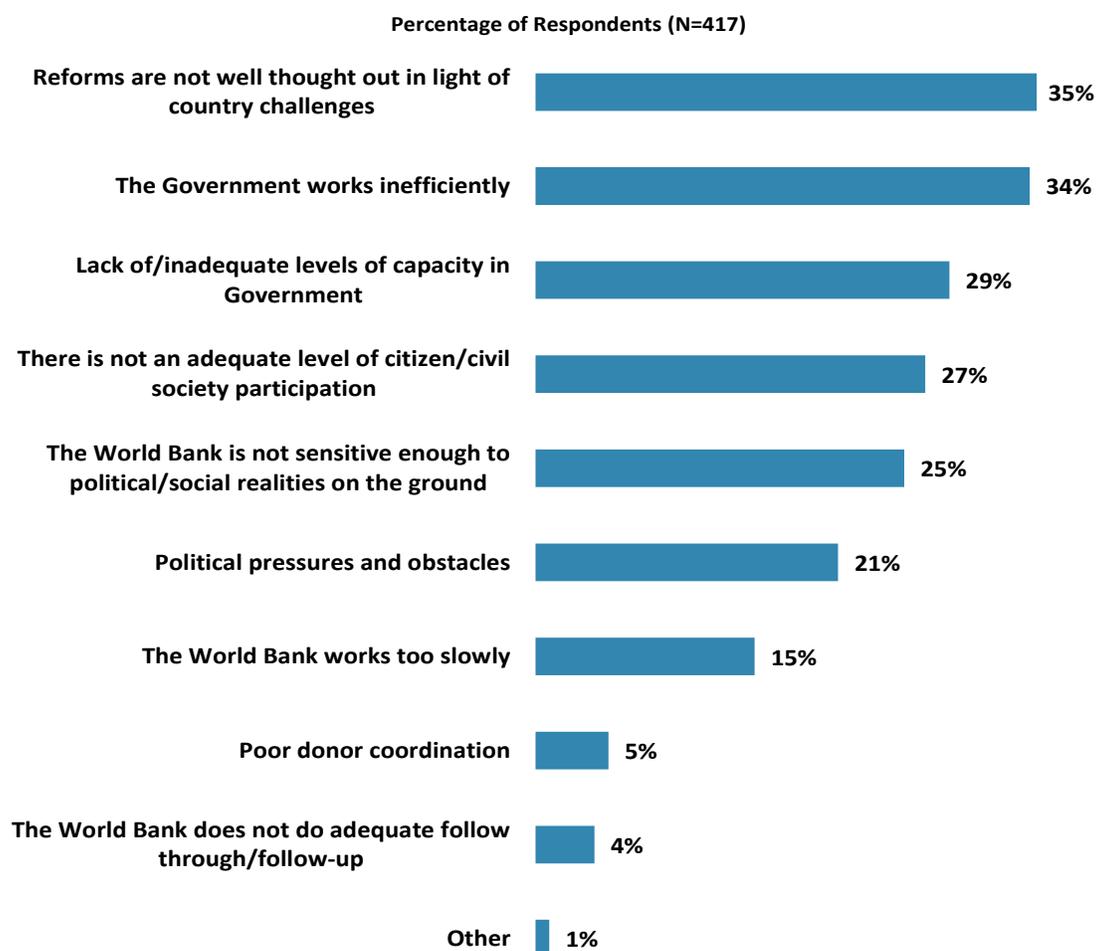

- In the FY '06 country survey*, respondents indicated that the Bank's greatest weaknesses were imposing technocratic solutions without regard to political realities (35%) and being too bureaucratic in its operational policies and procedures (25%). In the FY '10 survey*, respondents again indicated that the Bank's greatest weaknesses in its work in Malawi were being too bureaucratic in its operational policies and procedures (34%) and imposing technocratic solutions without regard to political realities (33%).

*Not all of the response options provided in the FY '13 survey were provided in the FY '06 and FY '10 surveys.

V. Overall Attitudes toward the World Bank (continued)

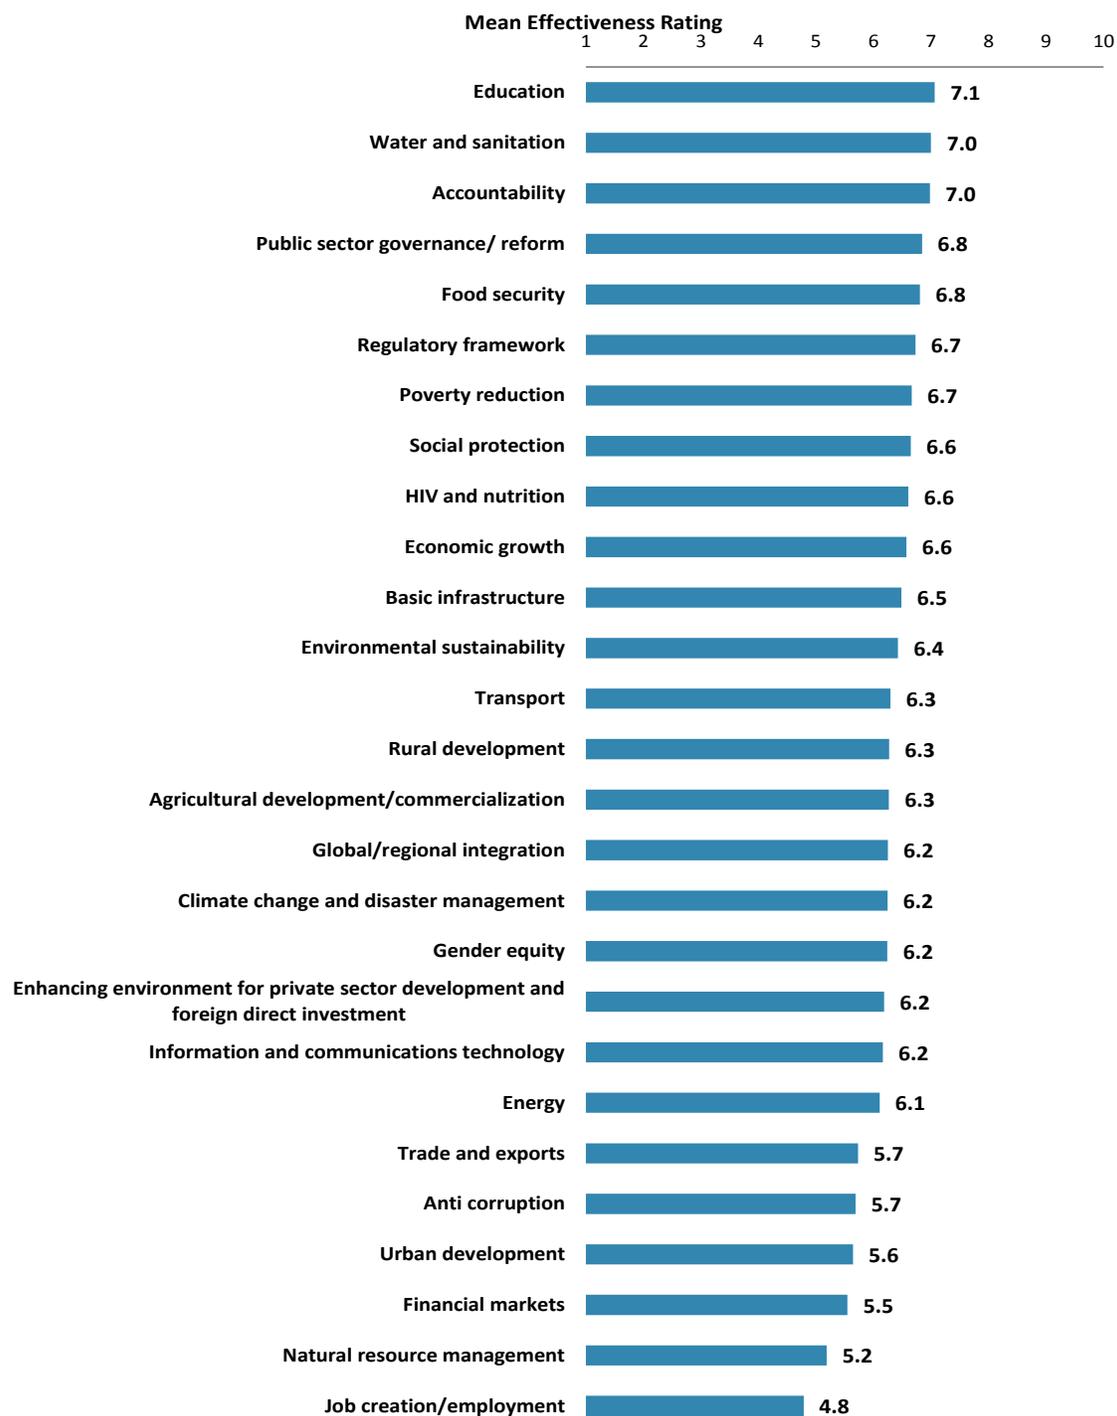

Attributing Slow or Failed Reform Efforts

"When World Bank assisted reform efforts fail or are slow to take place, which of the following would you attribute this to? (Choose no more than TWO)"
(Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

VI. Sectoral Effectiveness

Specific Areas of Effectiveness

(1-"Not effective at all", 10-"Very effective")

VI. Sectoral Effectiveness (continued)

- There were significant stakeholder group differences in their ratings of the Bank’s effectiveness across many of these twenty-seven development areas. For the most part, respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies gave the highest ratings, whereas respondents from academia/research institutes/think tanks tended to give significantly lower ratings. Those areas with significant stakeholder differences were:
 - Anti corruption;
 - Information and communications technology;
 - Accountability;
 - Environmental sustainability
 - Regulatory framework;
 - Poverty reduction;
 - Enhancing environment for private sector development and foreign direct investment;
 - Trade and exports;
 - Food security;
 - Education;
 - Social protection; and
 - Agricultural development/commercialization

- There were significant differences across geographic locations in respondents’ ratings of the Bank’s effectiveness in three development areas. For the most part, respondents from “District-Southern region” gave significantly higher ratings than those from: “City (Blantyre, Zomba, Lilongwe, Mzuzu).” Those areas with significant differences were:
 - Gender equity;
 - Rural development; and
 - Education.

- Responses across all stakeholder groups and geographic locations can be found in the Appendix section.

(*Significantly different between FY 2013 and FY 2006;
[^] significantly different between FY 2013 and FY 2010)

- Compared to the ratings received from the respondents in FY '06 country survey, respondents in this year's survey gave significantly lower ratings for the Bank's effectiveness in the following areas:
 - Anti corruption;
 - Basic infrastructure;
 - Economic growth;
 - Agricultural development/commercialization; and
 - Natural resource management.

- Compared to the ratings received from the respondents in FY '06 country survey, respondents in this year's survey gave significantly higher ratings for the Bank's effectiveness in the following areas:
 - Urban development;
 - Regulatory framework;
 - Global/regional integration; and
 - Social protection

- Compared to the ratings received from the respondents in FY '10 country survey, respondents in this year's survey gave significantly lower ratings for the Bank's effectiveness in the following areas:
 - Anti corruption;
 - Basic infrastructure;
 - Agricultural development/commercialization; and
 - Natural resource management.

- Compared to the ratings received from the respondents in FY '10 country survey, respondents in this year's survey gave significantly higher ratings for the Bank's effectiveness in the following areas:
 - Regulatory framework;
 - HIV and nutrition;
 - Enhancing environment for private sector development and foreign direct investment;
 - Public sector governance/reform;
 - Social protection; and
 - Climate change and disaster management

VI. Sectoral Effectiveness (continued)

Drivers of Effectiveness

To determine the key drivers of respondents' ratings of the Bank's overall effectiveness and ratings of its ability to help achieve development results in Malawi, bivariate correlational analyses were conducted using respondents' ratings of the forty-one specific areas of effectiveness.

Correlational analyses, however, are not able to tell us exactly what is causing respondents' ratings of the Bank's overall effectiveness or ratings of its ability to help achieve development results. Rather, these analyses tell us that as ratings of effectiveness in one area increase, respondents' ratings of the Bank's overall effectiveness increase, or as ratings of effectiveness in one area increase, ratings of the Bank's ability to help achieve development results increase. Thus, it can be inferred that respondents' perceptions of effectiveness in one specific area are related to, or drive, respondents' perceptions of the Bank's overall effectiveness or perceptions of the Bank's ability to help achieve development results.

- Overall Effectiveness: Those specific areas with the highest Pearson Product-Moment correlations were determined to be the most closely related to perceptions of the Bank's overall effectiveness, suggesting that ratings of effectiveness in those specific areas are drivers of perceptions of the Bank's overall effectiveness in Malawi. The areas determined to be key drivers from these analyses were:
 - The Bank's effectiveness at economic growth;
 - The Bank's effectiveness at poverty reduction;
 - The Bank's effectiveness at education;
 - The Bank's effectiveness at food security;
 - The Bank's effectiveness at agricultural development/commercialization;
 - The Bank's effectiveness at job creation/employment

- Achieving Development Results: Those specific areas with the highest Pearson Product-Moment correlations were determined to be the most closely related to perceptions of the Bank's ability to help achieve development results in Malawi, suggesting that ratings of effectiveness in those specific areas are drivers of perceptions of the Bank's ability to help achieve development results. The areas determined to be key drivers from these analyses were:
 - The Bank's effectiveness at poverty reduction;
 - The Bank's effectiveness at agricultural development/commercialization;
 - The Bank's effectiveness at economic growth;
 - The Bank's effectiveness at education; and
 - The Bank's effectiveness at social protection.

VII. How the World Bank Operates

The World Bank's Work in Malawi

- Respondents in this year's country survey had significantly higher levels of agreement that the World Bank supports programs and strategies that are realistic for Malawi compared to respondents in the FY '06 survey.
- Respondents in this year's country survey had statistically similar levels of agreement with two other statements (indicator questions) compared to respondents in the FY '06 and FY '10 country surveys.
- There were significant differences across stakeholder groups in their levels of agreement with all three statements below. Respondents from the bilateral/multilateral agencies, PMUs, and consultants/contractors working on Bank projects tended to have the highest levels of agreement, whereas respondents from academia/research institutes/think tanks had significantly lower levels of agreement.
- Respondents across all geographic locations had statistically similar levels of agreement with these three statements.

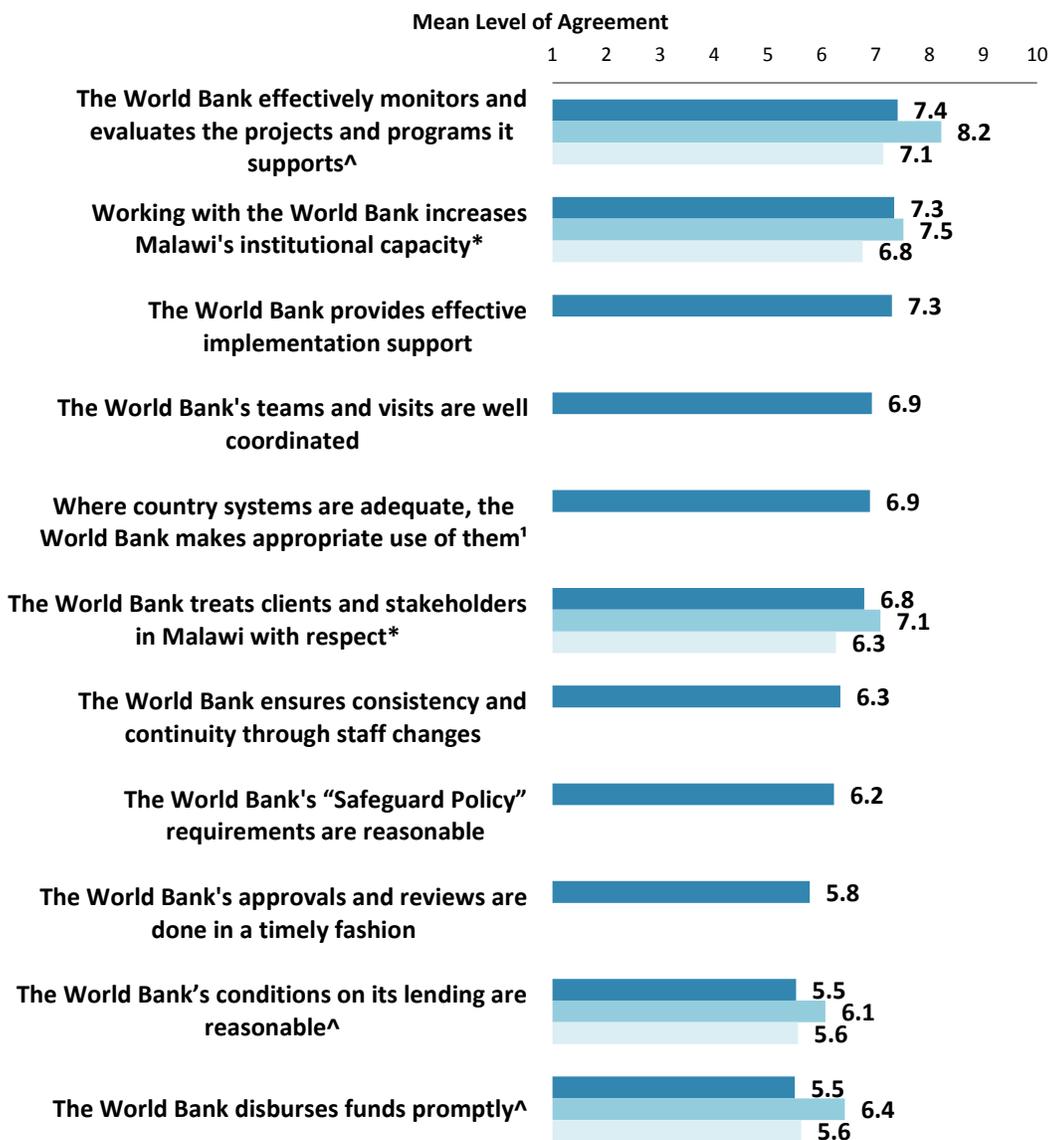

"To what extent do you agree with the following statements about the World Bank's work in Malawi?" (1-"Strongly disagree", 10-"Strongly agree")

* significantly different between FY 13 and FY 06 country surveys

¹Indicator Question

VII. How the World Bank Operates (continued)

- Respondents in this year's survey had significantly higher levels of agreement that “working with the World Bank increases Malawi's institutional capacity” and that “the World Bank treats clients and stakeholders in Malawi with respect” compared to the levels of agreement given by the respondents in FY '06 country survey.
- Respondents in this year's survey had significantly lower levels of agreement that “The World Bank effectively monitors and evaluates the projects and programs it supports”, that “The World Bank's conditions on its lending are reasonable”, and that “The World Bank disburses funds promptly” compared to the levels of agreement given by the respondents in FY '10 country survey.
- There were significant differences across stakeholder groups in their levels of agreement that “the World Bank treats clients and stakeholders in Malawi with respect,” “The World Bank disburses funds promptly,” “the World Bank's ‘Safeguard Policy’ requirements are reasonable,” “The World Bank's conditions on its lending are reasonable,” and “the World Bank provides effective implementation support.” For the most part, respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies had the highest levels of agreement, whereas respondents from academia/research institute/think tanks had significantly lower levels of agreement.
- Respondents across all geographic locations had statistically similar levels of agreement with these eleven statements.
- Respondents across all stakeholder groups and geographic locations had statistically similar levels of agreement with the indicator question that “where country systems are adequate, the World Bank makes appropriate use of them.”

The World Bank as an Effective Development Partner

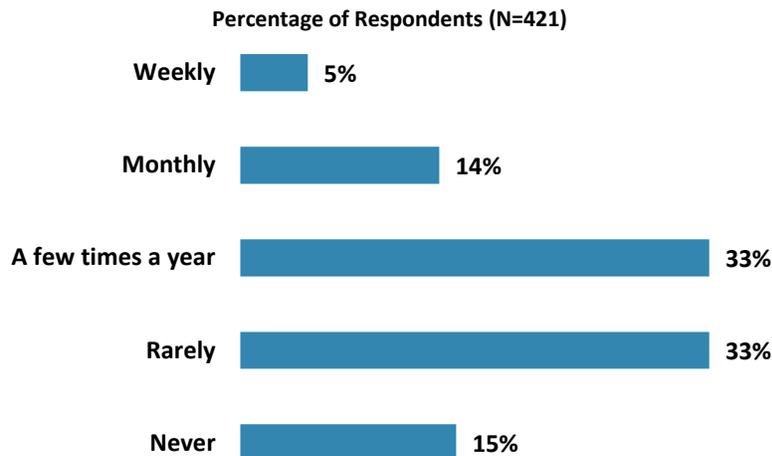

- Respondents from this year's country survey had significantly lower ratings for the Bank's flexibility in terms of changing country circumstances, staff accessibility, and its straightforwardness and honesty compared to respondents from the FY '10 survey.
- There were significant stakeholder differences in the ratings for the following qualities of the Bank as an effective development partner, including the Bank's "straightforwardness and honesty," "responsiveness," "openness," "follow through over time," "collaboration with groups outside of the government", "being inclusive," "the speed in which it gets things accomplished on the ground," "staff accessibility," "flexibility in terms of changing country circumstances," and "flexibility in terms of the World Bank's products and services." For the most part, respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies had the highest ratings, whereas respondents from academia/research institute/think tanks had significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents from City (Blantyre, Zomba, Lilongwe, Mzuzu) had the highest ratings for the Bank's staff accessibility, whereas respondents from Town and District-Northern region had significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents from District-Central region had the highest ratings for the Bank's collaboration with the groups outside of the government, whereas respondents from the Town and District-Northern region had significantly lower ratings.

VIII. World Bank Knowledge and Instruments

Frequency of Use

- There were some interesting stakeholder group differences in their usage of the World Bank's knowledge work and activities.
 - While most people across stakeholder groups indicated that they consult the Bank's knowledge work and activities a few times a year or rarely, more than a quarter of the respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies, other organizations, PMUs, and consultants/contractors working on Bank projects indicated that they consult the Bank's knowledge work and activities monthly.
 - More than twenty percent of the respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies indicated that they consult the Bank's knowledge work and activities weekly.

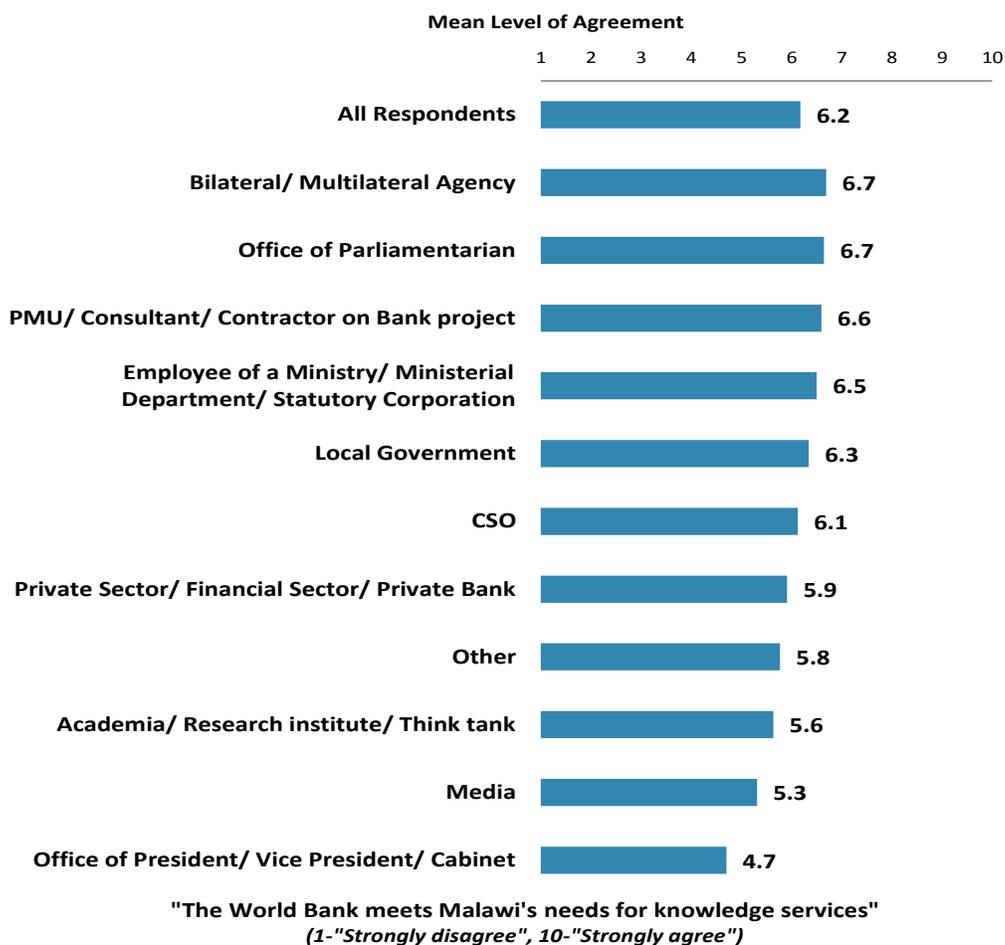

"How frequently do you consult World Bank knowledge work and activities in the work you do?"

Meeting Malawi's Knowledge Needs (Indicator Question)

- Respondents across all stakeholder groups and geographic locations had statistically similar levels of agreement that the Bank meets Malawi's needs for knowledge services.

Knowledge: Focusing Bank Research

- In the FY'10 country survey*, respondents indicated that it would be most valuable for the Bank to focus its research efforts on rural development (33%) and education (26%).

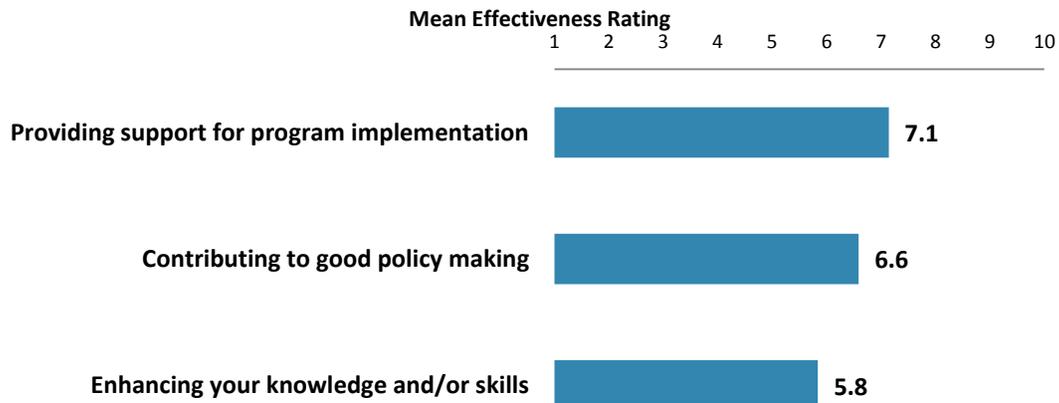

“When thinking about the development challenges in Malawi, where do you believe it would be most valuable for the World Bank to focus its knowledge work and activities in the next few years? (Choose no more than THREE)” (Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

*Not all of the response options provided in the FY '13 survey were provided in the FY '10 survey.

Knowledge: Effectiveness

- Respondents from PMUs and consultants/contractors working on Bank projects gave the highest ratings for the Bank's effectiveness in enhancing knowledge and/or skills, whereas respondents from the private sector/financial sector/private banks gave significantly lower ratings.
- Employees of ministries/ministerial departments/statutory corporations had the highest ratings for the Bank's effectiveness in contributing to good policy making and providing support for program implementation, whereas respondents from academia/research institutes/think tanks had significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents across geographic locations gave statistically similar ratings for the Bank's effectiveness in these three areas.

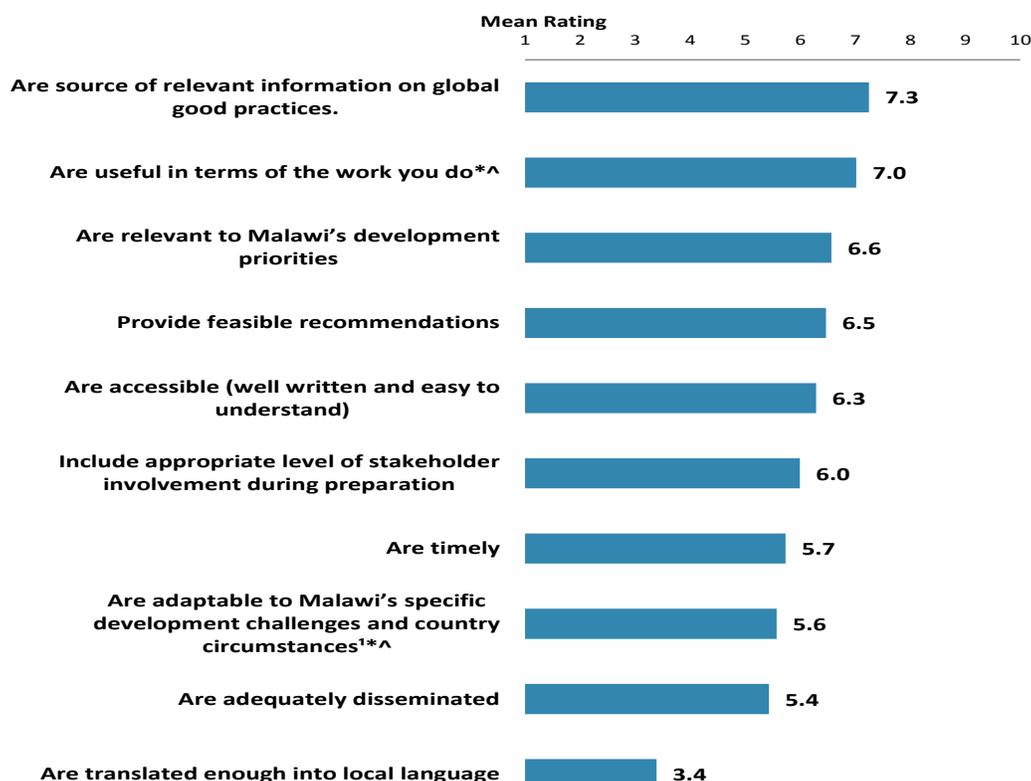

"In Malawi, how effective do you believe the World Bank's knowledge work and activities are at:"
(1-"Not effective at all", 10-"Very effective")

Qualities of the Bank's Knowledge Work and Activities

- Respondents in this year's country survey had significantly lower ratings for the extent to which the Bank's knowledge work and activities "are useful in terms of the work you do" and "are adaptable to Malawi's specific development challenges and country circumstances" compared to respondents in both the FY '06 and FY '10 country surveys.
- There were significant stakeholder differences in the respondents' ratings for the extent to which the Bank's knowledge work and activities "are timely," "include appropriate level of stakeholder involvement during preparation," "are relevant to Malawi's development priorities," "provide feasible recommendations," "are accessible," "are source of relevant information on global good practices," and "are useful in terms of the work you do." For the most part, respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies gave the highest ratings, whereas respondents from academia/research institutes/think tanks gave significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents across geographic locations gave statistically similar ratings for all the following qualities.

"In Malawi, to what extent do you believe that the World Bank's knowledge work and activities:"

(1-"To no degree at all", 10-"To a very significant degree")

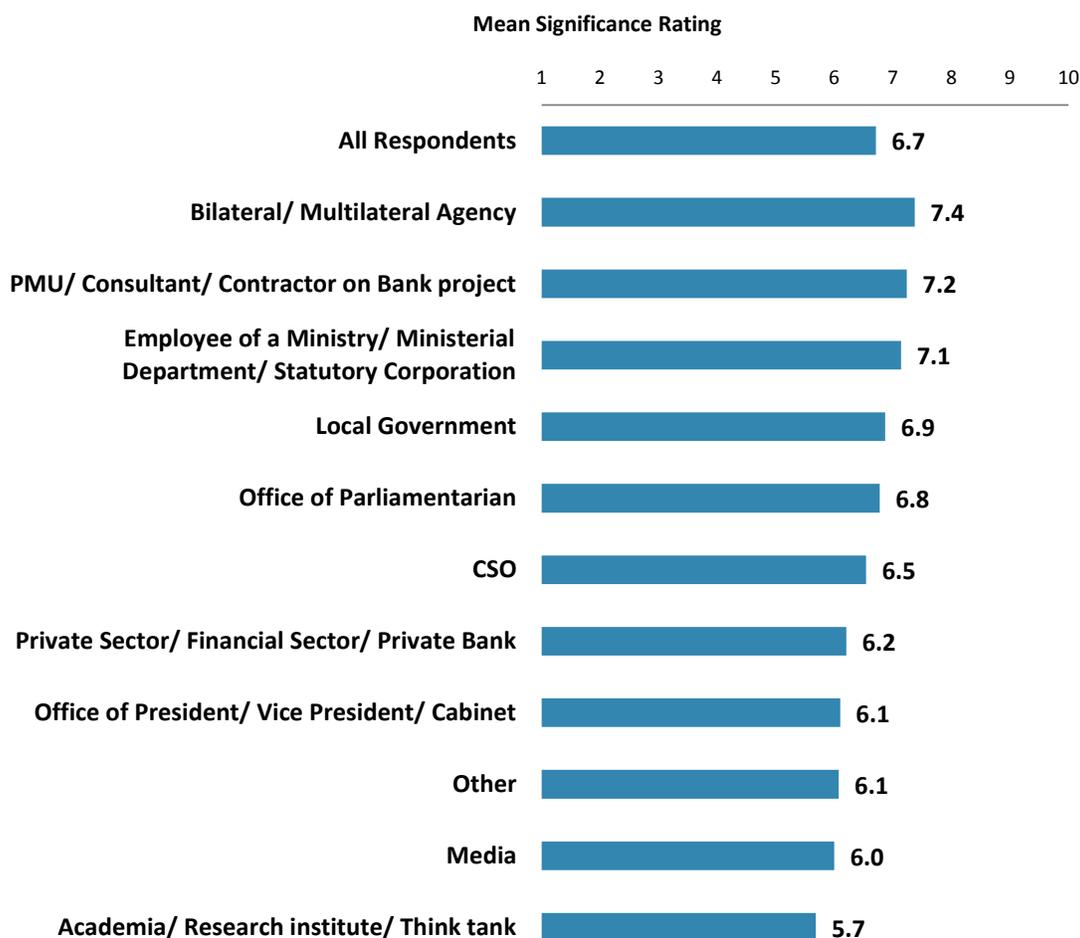

(* Significantly different between FY13 and FY06 country surveys;

^ Significantly different between FY 13 and FY 10 country surveys) 'Indicator Question

Contribution of the Bank's Knowledge Work and Activities (Indicator Question)

- Respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies gave the highest ratings for the significance of the contribution that the World Bank's knowledge work and activities make to development results in Malawi, whereas respondent from the media and academia/research institutes/think tanks gave significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents across geographic locations gave statistically similar ratings for the significance of the contribution that the World Bank's knowledge work and activities make to development results in Malawi.

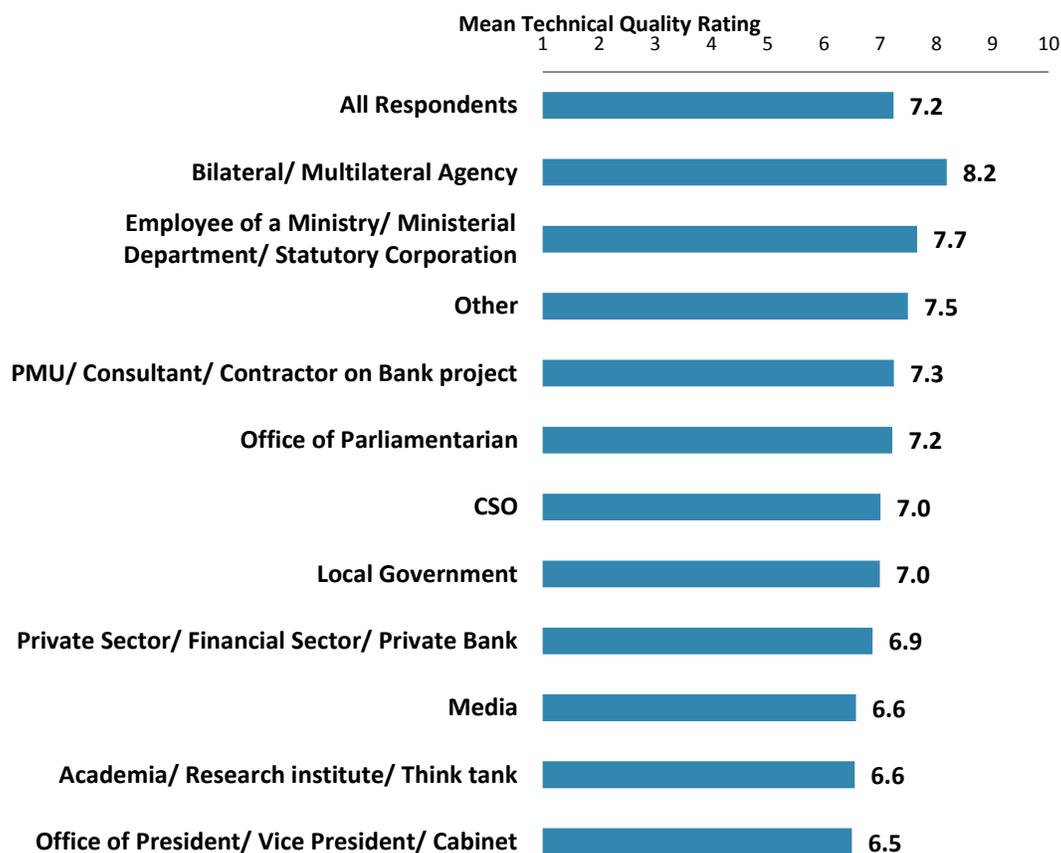

"Overall, how significant a contribution do you believe the World Bank's knowledge work and activities make to development results in your country?"
(1-"Not significant at all", 10-"Very significant")

Technical Quality of the Bank's Knowledge Work and Activities (Indicator Question)

- Respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies gave the highest ratings for the technical quality of the World Bank's knowledge work and activities, whereas respondents from the media, academia/research institutes/think tanks, and the office of President/Vice President/Cabinet tended to give significantly lower ratings.
- Respondents across geographic locations gave statistically similar ratings for the technical quality of the World Bank's knowledge work and activities.

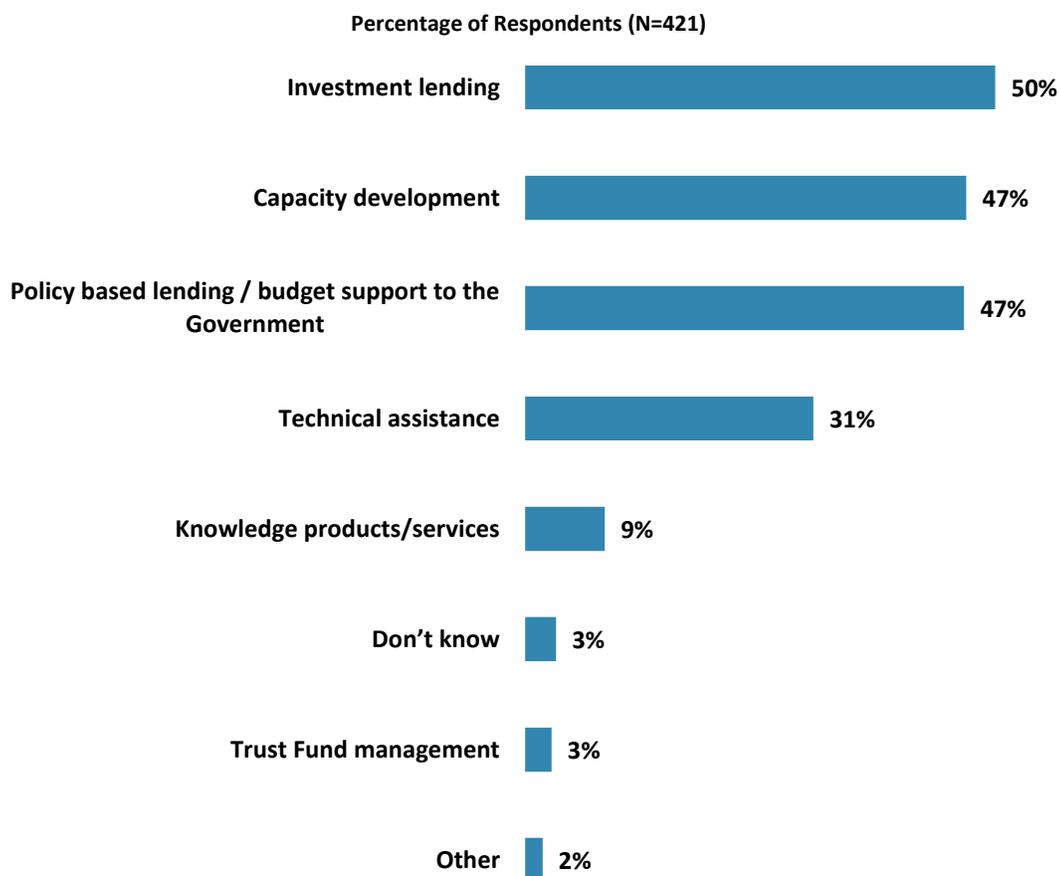

"Overall, how would you rate the technical quality of the World Bank's knowledge work and activities?"

(1-"Very low technical quality", 10-"Very high technical quality")

Most Effective Instruments

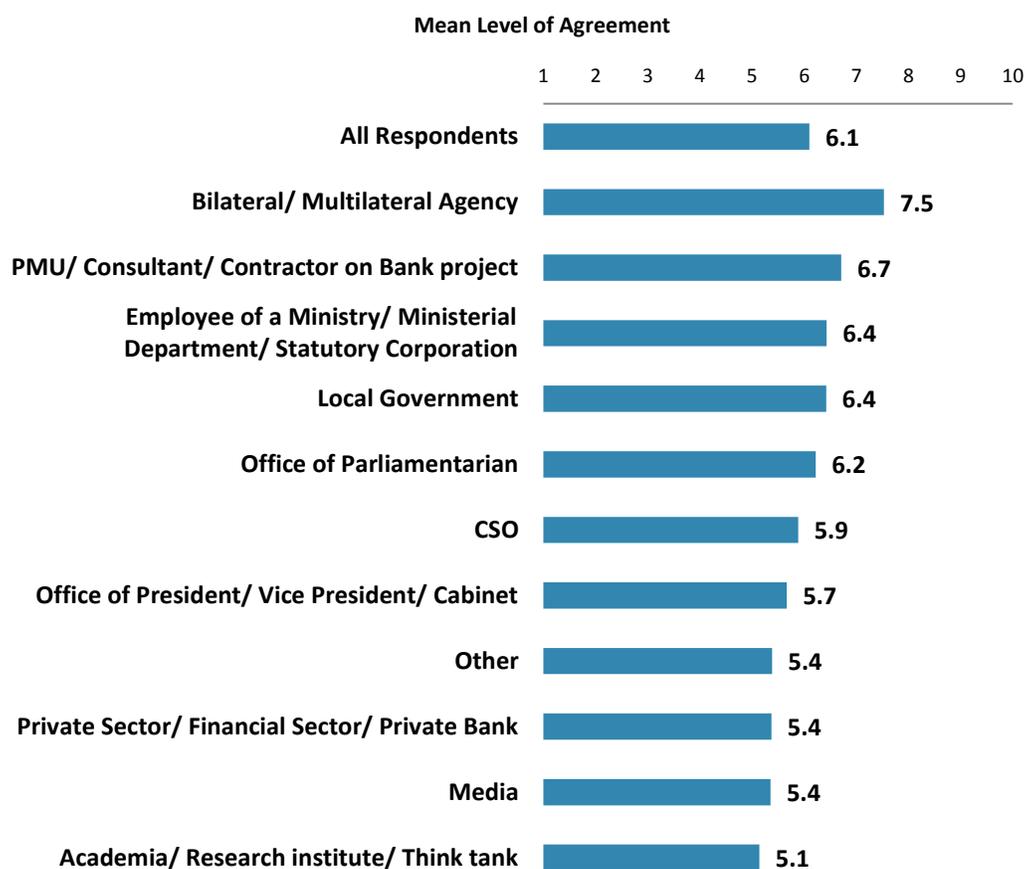

“Which World Bank instruments do you believe are the MOST effective in reducing poverty in Malawi? (Choose no more than TWO)”
(Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

Meeting Malawi's Needs for Financial Instruments (Indicator Question)

- Respondents from bilateral/multilateral agencies had the highest levels of agreement that the Bank's financial instruments meet Malawi's needs, whereas respondents from the media and academia/research institutes/think tanks had significantly lower levels of agreement.
- Respondents across geographic locations had statistically similar levels of agreement that the Bank's financial instruments meet Malawi's needs.

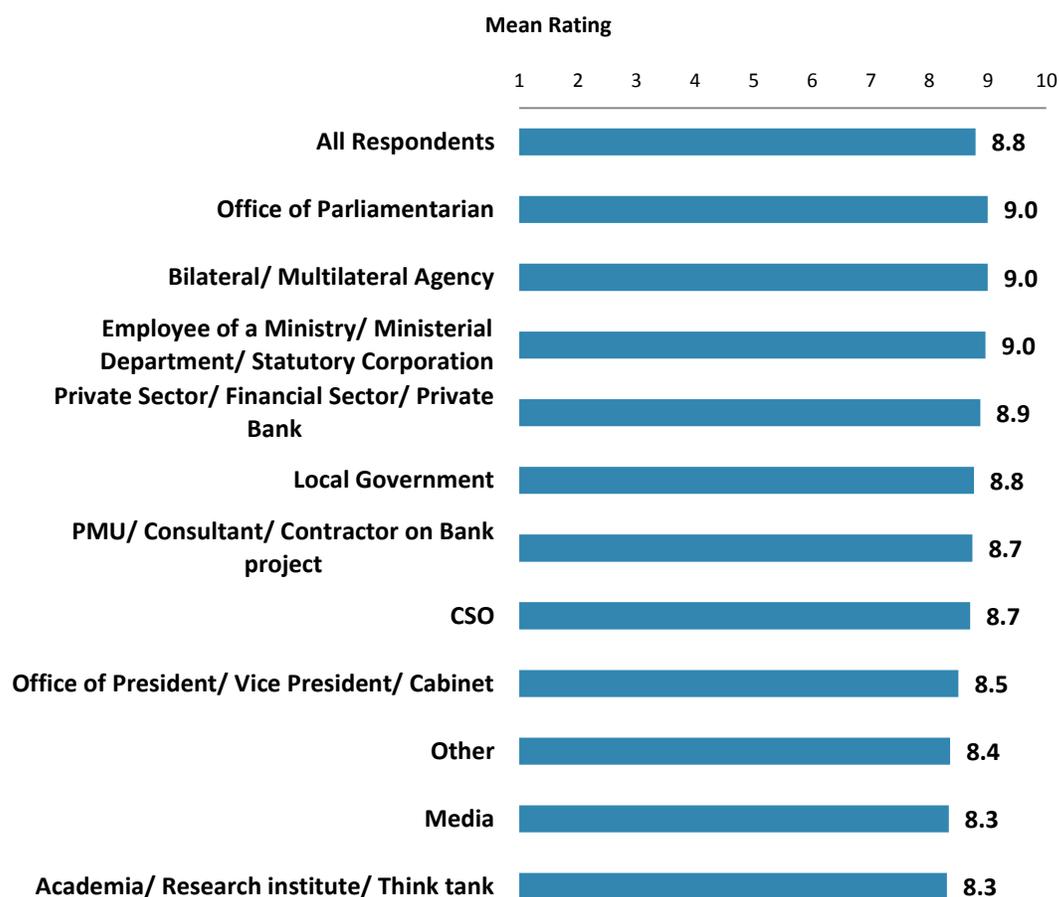

"The World Bank's financial instruments meet the needs of Malawi"
 (1-"Strongly disagree", 10-"Strongly agree")

IX. The Future Role of the World Bank in Malawi

Role Significance

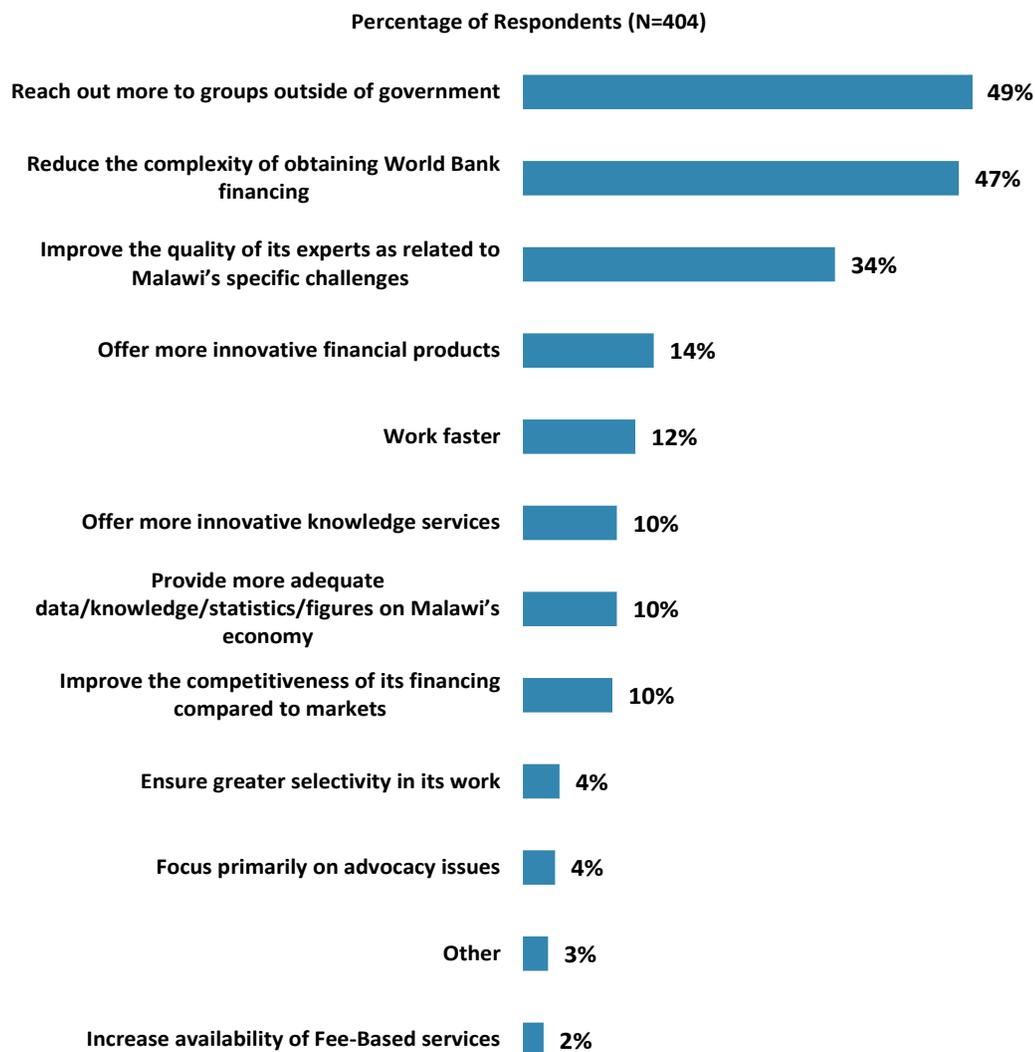

- Respondents across all stakeholder groups and geographic locations gave statistically similar ratings for the significance of the Bank's future role in Malawi's development.

"How significant a role do you believe the World Bank SHOULD play in Malawi's development in the near future?" (1-"Not a significant role at all", 10-"Very significant role")

IX. The Future Role of the World Bank in Malawi (continued)

Making the World Bank of Greater Value

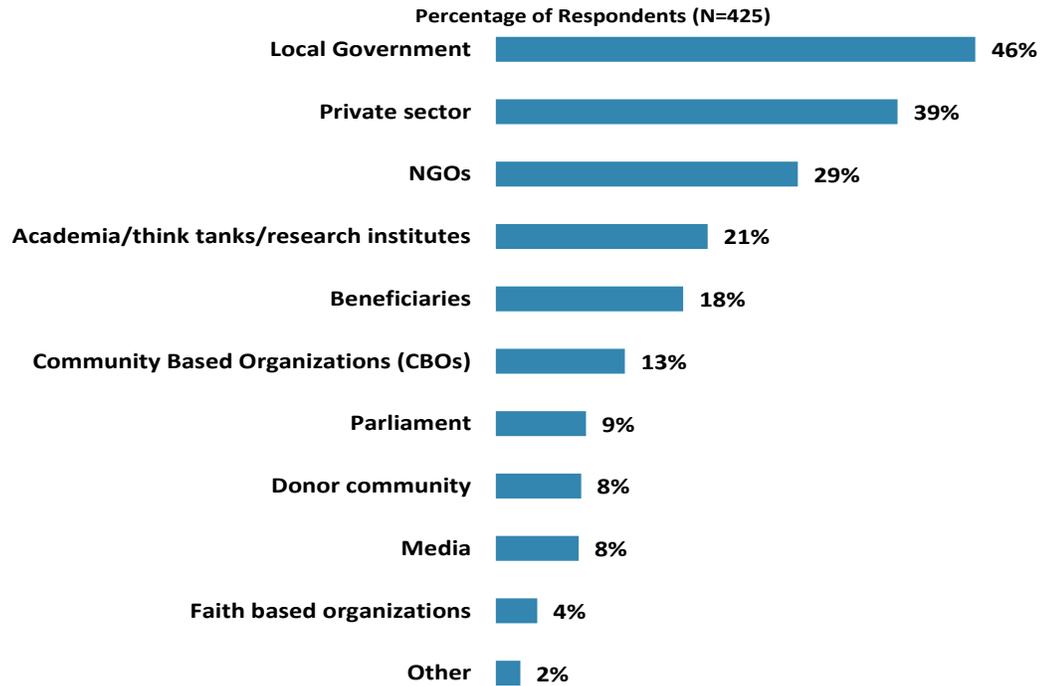

"Which of the following SHOULD the World Bank do to make itself of greater value in Malawi? (Choose no more than TWO)" (Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

IX. The Future Role of the World Bank in Malawi (continued)

Collaborating with Stakeholders in Malawi

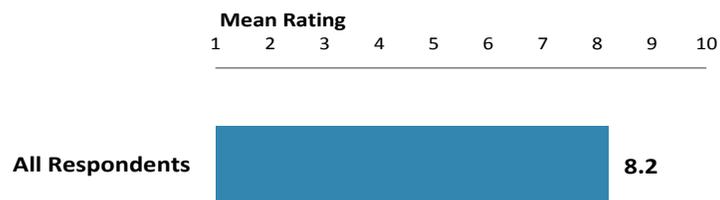

- In the FY '10 country survey*, respondents indicated that the World Bank should work more closely with local government (45%) to ensure better development results in Malawi.

"In addition to the regular relations with the national government as its main interlocutor, which TWO of the following groups should the World Bank collaborate with more in your country to ensure better development results there?"
(Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

*Not all of the response options provided in the FY '13 survey were provided in the FY '10 survey.

Influencing the Global Development Agenda

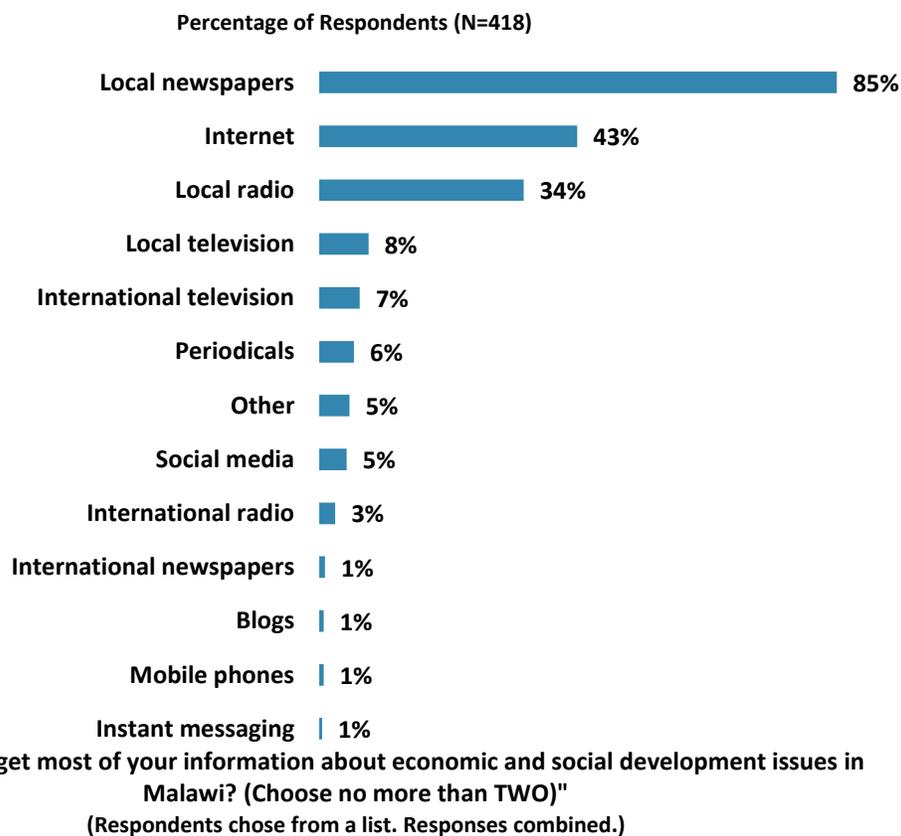

"To what extent do you believe the World Bank SHOULD seek to influence the global development agenda as related to 'global public goods'?"
(1 - "To no degree at all", 10 - "To a very significant degree")

X. Communication and Openness

Information Sources

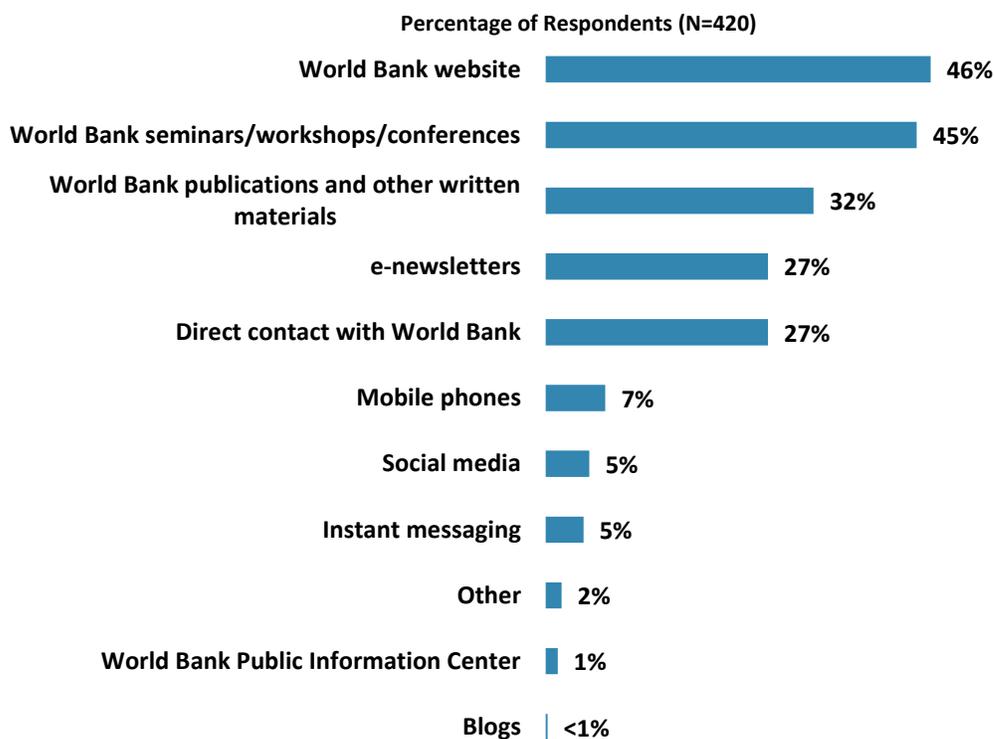

- Respondents from the FY '06 survey* indicated that they utilized local newspapers (77%) to get most of their information about economic and social development issues in Malawi. Respondents from the FY '10 survey* also indicated that they got most their information from local newspapers (81%).

*Not all of the response options provided in the FY '13 survey were provided in the FY '06 and FY'10 surveys.

X. Communication and Openness (continued)

Preferred Information Sources

"How would you prefer to receive information from the World Bank?
(Choose no more than TWO)"
(Respondents chose from a list. Responses combined.)

X. Communication and Openness (continued)

Access to Information

- Respondents from the media, PMUs, consultants/contractors working on Bank projects were most likely to be aware of the Bank's Informational Policy, whereas respondents from local governments and CSOs were significantly less likely to be aware of it.

Percentage of Respondents (N=398)

"Are you aware of the World Bank's Access to Information Policy under which the Bank will now disclose any information in its possession that is not on a list of exceptions?"

- Respondents from the media and the office of President/Vice President/Cabinet were most likely to have requested information from the World Bank on its activities in the past year, whereas respondents from local governments were significantly less likely to have done so.

Percentage of Respondents (N=394)

"Have you requested information from the World Bank on its activities in the past year?"
