Keep count of the number of items the child names, up to a maximum of 10 items. If the child pauses for 5 seconds or more, PROMPT ONCE by saying, "Can you think of any others?" When the child cannot think of more items, move on to the next question. Enter the number of items the child was able to name into answer box.

The Mouse and the Cat

Once upon a time there was a fat cat. He always wore a red hat. Once when he was sleeping, a small mouse came silently and stole the cat's hat. The cat woke up to see his hat gone, got very angry and started chasing the mouse. After a while, the mouse was trapped under a table and could not find any way to escape. So the mouse said to the cat, "Please don't eat me, cat. If you spare my life I will return your hat." So, after getting back his hat the cat said, "Please don't touch my hat again" and he went back to sleep in a happy mood.

Now I am going to ask you some questions about the story.
